Battle In House To Be Close According To Predictions Of Leaders

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Administration leaders today faced a bitter battle in the house over their bill to extend selective service to a total of two and one-half years.

After senate approval of the measure by a vote of 45 to 30, the house took it over with the 162 Republican members almost solidly opposed to any extension of the statutory 12-month term of service for selectees.

House Democratic leaders took advantage upon opening of general debate on the measure to attempt to put down a coalition movement among some Republicans and the non-intervention bloc for a substantial reduction in the 18 months extended service proposal adopted by the senate.

May Defeat Program
At the same time, however, Rep. Martin (R) Mass. house minority leader, after a canvass of Republican members, predicted that with the help of the Democratic non-intervention bloc they would have an even chance of defeating the administration's entire program to extend selective service.

It was expected the most popular compromise proposition that would call for an extended service of one year, a proposal sponsored by Sen. Burton (R) Ohio, and defeated in the senate.

Another compromise proposal expected to be offered in the lower chamber would limit the extension (Continued On Page Two)

No new detours are listed for the local district on the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania Highway Department during the coming week, ending August 15, the bulletin reveals. It can be found posted in the lobby of The News.

Travelers have been notified that all hotel accommodations in Altoona from August 13 to 16 have been reserved. The Pennsylvania American Legion holds its convention there that week.

Just a week or so ago, the district was in the throes of a heat wave, and the nights were almost unsleepable, but one cannot complain about the weather now. The nights seem almost autumnal.

Some boys, just below the East Washington street bridge over the Neshannock river, Thursday, dug a trench from the larger body of water in the center to the side. Evidently this piece of engineering was done to lessen the depth of the water, so that the divers could better locate the pennies thrown in by folks on the bridge above.

Gen. Weygand To Arrive In Vichy

VICHY, Aug. 8.—Newspapers and radio stations in Paris announced today that Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander-in-chief of French forces in North Africa, is expected to arrive in Vichy today or tomorrow.

Various rumors spread through Vichy in connection with Weygand's anticipated arrival, particularly in view of the recent statement of Fernand de Brinon, Vichy envoy in Paris, that "delicate adjustments in Franco-German relations are pending."

Officials stated, meanwhile, that there was no change in the personal position of Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

R. A. F. Makes Heavy Raids On German Armament Factories Says Report

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Reports that the Soviet air force had carried out its first raid on Berlin reached London today.

German military officials said that "a few" Royal Air Force planes reached the capital last night but a thorough check by all authoritative British sources showed this to be untrue.

As a result, it was assumed that Russian fliers for the first time had reached Berlin, dropping bombs in retaliation for repeated German raids on Moscow.

Bomb Armament Factories
An official air ministry communiqué said that a "great weight" of Britain's heaviest bombs were dropped on armament factories at Essen and Dortmund in the Rhine-land during the night, while the important railway center of Hamm also was attacked.

Fine weather and good visibility aided the raids, it was said, and great damage was caused, with widespread fires left burning. A small British force also attacked the docks at Boulogne as well as enemy airdromes and other targets in Denmark and shipping off the Dutch coast. Airdromes in occupied France in addition were singled out for attacks.

No British At Berlin

An official air ministry announcement stated no British planes attacked Berlin last night.

At the same time German raiders carried out small scale attacks against sections of eastern England and Scotland. The air ministry announced a number of persons were injured in one northeastern (Continued On Page Two)

Former Cunard White Liner Passenger Ship Now Used As Transport

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The British admiralty announced today that the famous steamer Georgic has been damaged by "enemy action."

The 27,759-ton liner, formerly a Cunard White Star passenger vessel, known to thousands of Americans who traveled across the Atlantic aboard the luxurious ship, had been called into war service, apparently as a troop transport.

The admiralty stated, however, that no troops were aboard the Georgic when she was damaged.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)

While fighting roared on with unabated violence on the eastern front, German official quarters turned their eyes and propaganda guns against Latin America. Wilhelmstrasse quarters, in a highly significant move, charged that President Roosevelt is aiming at "subjugation" of Latin America. German newspapers poked up the cry, launching a full-scale campaign designed to prove that the United States has imperialistic designs against Latin America.

The German press said documentary proof soon will be presented to show that the United States military and naval missions are at present busily engaged in all Central American countries.

The entire picture of the war, considered on the basis of information supplied by the press departments of the contending governments, grows more fantastic and incredible every day. It seems impossible that the two can have the same war in mind.

According to German announcements the Red army has suffered the heaviest losses known in the history of war. It has been defeated in "three separate battles of annihilation." It began to disintegrate as early as July 12 and the process of falling apart, according to Berlin, has now proceeded so far that "Moscow is unable to form a clear picture of the operations of its own badly-disorganized armies."

Plan Funeral For Mussolini's Son

Burial To Be Made At Predappio On Saturday—Killed In Plane Crash

(International News Service)
PISA, Italy, Aug. 8.—Mourned by members of his family, the body of 23-year-old Bruno Mussolini lay in state amid final preparations for funeral services today.

The services are to be held later in the day and burial will be at Predappio tomorrow.

Among those who came to Pisa for the funeral was Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, brother-in-law of the dead aviator. It was announced this afternoon, however, that Count Ciano was indisposed and hence would be unable to attend Bruno's funeral.

Young Mussolini, second son of Il Duce, was killed yesterday in the crash of a new experimental bomber which he was testing.

News of his son's death reached Premier Mussolini while he was working at his desk in Rome. He ordered all Italian flags flown at half staff until further notice.

Premier Mussolini flew to Pisa with his elder son, Vittorio, and his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italy's foreign minister. Later Bruno's mother, Donna Rachele, also flew to Pisa from Rome.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—The German government today launched a full-scale campaign designed to prove that the United States has imperialistic designs against Latin America. Documentary proof soon will be presented in the German press, it was announced, to show that United States military and naval missions are at present busily engaged in all Central American countries. In addition, it was said, the United States has interfered with commercial aviation in Central America to permit expansion and extension of air bases "especially by purchase and control of civil aviation lines and airports."

President Roosevelt, Wilhelmstrasse quarters charged, is aiming at "subjugation" of Latin America. The official DNB news agency said.

RUSSIA DENIES GERMAN CLAIMS OF HUGE LOSSES

command previously claimed that some 4,000,000 Russians had been killed, wounded or captured.

In a formal statement the Soviet information bureau denied the German figures on Soviet war losses and gave out a set of figures of its own.

This statement claimed that the Russian losses were lower than German losses in all categories.

Losses Claimed
In addition to the 1,500,000 men, it was claimed, the Germans have lost:

- Six thousand aircraft.
- Eight thousand guns.
- Six thousand tanks.

As against these asserted German losses, Russian losses were listed as follows:

- Six hundred thousand men.
- Four thousand aircraft.
- Seven thousand guns.
- Five thousand tanks.

Ridicules Nazi Statement
Likewise the Russian statement ridiculed the German claim that Chancellor Hitler's legions pierced the Stalin line, "which as such is a German invention."

Russian military quarters claimed that Smolensk, which the Germans already claim to have captured, is continuing to hold out against the Nazi siege.

Retaliating blow for blow, it was stated, the Russian garrison at Smolensk has "rounded up and exterminated large groups of Nazi parachutists." These parachute troops were said to have been dropped on the city along with a number of light tanks.

Battles Continue
Meanwhile, the Soviet high command told of continued battles on sectors facing Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

"Stubborn fighting continued in the direction of Kholm, Smolensk, Kholm, and Byelaya-Tserkov," the war communiqué said.

"There were no important engagements in other directions or sectors."

"The air force in cooperation with land forces continued to deal blows to enemy mechanized units and infantry on the battle field and to aircraft and airbases."

"Thirty-nine German planes were shot down while we lost 19."

"According to later data, nine raiders were shot down during Wednesday night's attack on Moscow."

STEADY SUCCESS ON SOVIET FRONT IS NAZI CLAIM

vance. Nazi forces in Estonia captured the town of Wesenberg reaching the coast of Finland Bay.

An official German admiralty statement said that 75,000 tons of enemy shipping were sunk by German submarines in the last few days in the Atlantic. New Nazi raids on Britain, Suez and the British naval base at Alexandria also were announced.

Railway Junction Taken.
Previously, military officials had announced capture of an important railway junction in the northern part of the Ukraine and a heavy new Luftwaffe raid on Moscow.

Authorities stated, however, that one aircraft factory in Moscow was severely damaged and that 10 fire were started in the Soviet capital during last night's raid.

Many tons of explosives and "ten of thousands" of incendiary bombs were declared to have been dropped on the Moskva river bend and on the sections to the south and east.

"Final Phase"
They said the "remains" of Russian resistance were being blasted in this "final phase" of the conflict and that Nazi troops were piercing Soviet defenses in all sectors.

New giant traps were declared to have been formed, and Berlin authorities claimed that "not a single Soviet soldier" has as yet escaped from these iron rings.

Military quarters asserted that Soviet opposition is decreasing everywhere, particularly on the northern sectors, while the number of prisoners and quantities of booty seized by the Germans are increasing steadily.

Likewise, it was claimed, Russian casualties are mounting daily.

On the central front facing Moscow, it was claimed, 3,000 Russian dead were found on the battle field facing a single German battery and 500 more were discovered in front of one anti-aircraft battery.

In addition to the German ground attacks, Berlin authorities said, the Luftwaffe is maintaining incessant attacks, preventing all Soviet attempts to reorganize and reform their lines.

German planes were depicted as "showing destruction" on Russian transport facilities, armored trains and troop concentrations from one end of the front to the other.

MANY OF NAZI RUSSIAN CLAIMS ARE IMPOSSIBLE

tically extinct and that the capture of Ivan the Russian bear is practical of Moscow and the occupation of the Ukraine ought to be a mere practice gallop for Panzer columns. But still the Nazi lines fail to make strategic advances on the war-map, and still Berlin admits that old Ivan is still in there fighting furiously.

Moscow's version of the war of counter-claims, however, is that it is the Nazis who have suffered the losses and defeats. According to Soviet Vice Commissar Lozovsk "the blitzkrieg is a washout."

The German armies have suffered greater losses in the seven weeks of the present campaign than during the entire three years of Ludendorff's operations against Russian armies in the World War, and the Nazi war machine is "in process of disintegration."

Reports Improbable
Although it is quite impossible for any observer at this distance to tell what is really going on behind this smoke-screen, it is quite easy and simple for any man with military education to demonstrate the utterly improbable nature of some of the claims being made by both sides.

For example rival claims as to enemy losses simply will not stand critical analysis. German official total of losses claimed to have been inflicted on Soviet forces added up to about 4,000,000 killed wounded or captured. Total German casualties according to Soviet claims today amount to 1,500,000.

These are astronomical figures. Casualties in World War battles were not computed until months, sometimes years after action was concluded. To collect accurate figures on enemy dead is difficult, and would require a host of statisticians. To add up the total of enemy wounded is impossible.

The 1,500,000 Germans claimed by Moscow as victims of the present campaign, Nazi-Soviet war would constitute about 100 divisions, or approximately 60 per cent of the total German troops believed by informed circles to be deployed for action against the Red army. The 4,000,000 Russian claimed put out of action by the Germans would constitute 160 out-size Russian divisions, or practically the entire number of elite troop formations in Stalin's army.

It is hoped that there are enough sensible influences in Japan to restrain the military from risking a clash with Britain and the western powers in the Pacific at the present time. If these influences prevail, a possibility is seen that the Japanese may abandon the southern drive temporarily, at least, and turn their attention to Russia.

above the budget has increased by about $14,000,000, this completely changing the fiscal picture and greatly increasing the need for revenue. Prices and the cost of living have increased at an accelerated rate.

Meanwhile senate tax leaders rejected a plan, previously backed by President Roosevelt, for a modified mandatory joint return provision in the pending new revenue bill.

The most bitter fight in the house was over the mandatory joint return provision which would have prohibited husbands and wives from filing individual income tax returns in order to avoid higher surtax rates. Before the provision finally was killed, the president urged a modification to permit individual returns only on money actually earned by an individual spouse.

It was the modified plan suggested by the chief executive which members of the senate committee were urged to approve. Sen. George (D) Ga. chairman of the group, however, took the lead in turning it down.

"I don't think the committee will seriously consider re-insertion of the mandatory joint return provision in any form," he declared.

Sen. Connally (D) Tex., another committee member, also asserted that he felt there was no chance of any such proposal gaining serious headway in the upper chamber.

Deaths of the Day

Death claimed Roy Wilson Dickey on his 54th birthday anniversary when he passed away at his home on Katherine street, R. D. 3, New Castle, Thursday at 10:45 p. m., death being caused by complications of one and a half years duration.

Born in West Liberty, Butler county, on August 7, 1887, son of Robert N. and Jessie McJunkin Dickey, he had resided in Neshannock township for the past 24 years and had been in the wholesale gasoline business for 16 years. For 32 years, he had been married to Elsie Badger Dickey, who survives him.

Mr. Dickey was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, the Men's Bible class, and was a charter member of the Neshannock township volunteer firemen and Clemons Parent-Teacher Association.

In addition to his wife, he leaves the following children: Robert S. Dickey, Mrs. Laura Crawford of Bessemer, Mrs. Grace Cook of New Castle, Mrs. Elizabeth, at home; three grand-children, Leroy Dickey, Robert and Judith Crawford; his father, Robert N. Dickey, and a sister, Mary Dickey of New Wilmington. He was preceded in death by his mother who died March 27, 1941, and by a son, Howard Wilson Dickey.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. David Joseph and Rev. J. M. Cottrill in charge. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

FAR EAST CRISIS HAS NOW REACHED ITS GRAVEST STAGE

tain, for the first time, now has indicated its determination to resort to force to prevent any further Japanese expansion in the southern Pacific.

If Japan moves into Thailand American officials in close touch with the Far Eastern situation believe British empire forces will cross the Thai border from Malaya to engage the Japanese and attempt to prevent them from occupying the entire territory formerly known as Siam.

Great Britain, according to the indications here, finally has said to Japan, in effect: "Thus far, and no farther." The factors which prompted the British to reach this vital decision are understood to include the following:

Factors in Decision
1.—Development of Thailand by Japan as a major base of land, sea and air operations would seriously endanger Britain's position in Singapore and might well make that fortified outpost of the British empire untenable. In other words, Thailand now has become for the British position in the Pacific what Syria was for Britain's position in the Mediterranean.

2.—Sufficient military forces now have been concentrated in Singapore and Malaya to lead the British to believe they could hold the Japanese in check in Thailand and prevent their complete domination of that territory.

3.—Great Britain believes that if the war should spread to a naval conflict in the Pacific, it could rely on the active help of the American navy.

Up To Tokyo
Official quarters will only go so far as to say for publication that the question of whether there is to be a Pacific war between the western powers and Japan now is up to Tokyo.

If a clash should occur between Britain and Japan in Thailand some hope is held that it might be localized. However, should it spread to naval warfare in the Pacific and an attack on Singapore, the official view is that the United States would quickly become involved.

It is hoped that there are enough sensible influences in Japan to restrain the military from risking a clash with Britain and the western powers in the Pacific at the present time. If these influences prevail, a possibility is seen that the Japanese may abandon the southern drive temporarily, at least, and turn their attention to Russia.

Death claimed Roy Wilson Dickey on his 54th birthday anniversary when he passed away at his home on Katherine street, R. D. 3, New Castle, Thursday at 10:45 p. m., death being caused by complications of one and a half years duration.

Born in West Liberty, Butler county, on August 7, 1887, son of Robert N. and Jessie McJunkin Dickey, he had resided in Neshannock township for the past 24 years and had been in the wholesale gasoline business for 16 years. For 32 years, he had been married to Elsie Badger Dickey, who survives him.

Mr. Dickey was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, the Men's Bible class, and was a charter member of the Neshannock township volunteer firemen and Clemons Parent-Teacher Association.

In addition to his wife, he leaves the following children: Robert S. Dickey, Mrs. Laura Crawford of Bessemer, Mrs. Grace Cook of New Castle, Mrs. Elizabeth, at home; three grand-children, Leroy Dickey, Robert and Judith Crawford; his father, Robert N. Dickey, and a sister, Mary Dickey of New Wilmington. He was preceded in death by his mother who died March 27, 1941, and by a son, Howard Wilson Dickey.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. David Joseph and Rev. J. M. Cottrill in charge. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

Miss Mary Emma Agnew

Miss Mary Emma Agnew passed away early this morning, August 8, at her home, 111 East Grant avenue. She was born July 4, 1858, in New Castle, daughter of Edwin Irwin Agnew and Laura G. McGuffin Agnew.

Surviving her is one brother, William E. Agnew.

Miss Agnew was a life-long member of the First Christian church and funeral services in charge of her pastor, Dr. G. S. Bennett, will be held from her late residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in the family burial plot in Greenwood cemetery.

John H. Boyle

John H. Boyle, aged 54, passed away this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of his sister, Miss Jennie M. Boyle, 1025 West North street, after an illness of three weeks duration. He had been in failing health for three months.

Mr. Boyle, a salesman for many years, was born February 18, 1887, in Hickory township, son of Patrick and Sara Chambers Boyle.

Survivors are his wife, Elizabeth A.; one daughter, Dorothy B., of Youngstown; one son, Thomas J., of New Castle; a sister, Jennie Boyle, at whose home he died, and two brothers, Charles of Akron, O., and Paul P., of Wilkinsburg.

The body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where the family will receive friends. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Suvak Funeral

Requiem high mass for Mrs. Sophia Suvak, wife of Andy Suvak, New Castle, R. D. 7, was celebrated this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Michael's church with Rev. Fr. William M. Pischke in charge.

pallbearers were George Matthews, George Begona, Peter Marketch, Mike Medvid, Matt Stanich and Paul Jerkovich.

Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

SOVIET AIRMEN MAY HAVE MADE RAID ON BERLIN

Scottish town and that some damage was done in a town in East Anglia. Elsewhere, the air ministry stated, there was little damage and casualties were few.

Yesterday's air ministry said, British bombers escorted by fighters attacked northern France and bombed an airdrome near St. Omer, shipping off the coast and other targets near Gravelines. At least four German fighters were shot down, it was stated, while 10 British fighters were lost.

Mystery Unsolved

The "mystery" of the attack on Berlin during the night remained unsolved at a late hour this morning.

Reuters News Agency sent out a bulletin quoting the Berlin radio as saying the R.A.F. had bombed Berlin, then changed this to a one-line statement that Berlin had been bombed. Exchange Telegraph issued a bulletin that the Russians had bombed Berlin, but quickly cancelled the story.

Persons seeking to unravel this newest "who done it" problem recalled that Free Polish aviators sometimes "get an itch" to go to Berlin. But there was no evidence that they went there last night.

Predict Women To Wear Solid Color Hosiery Shortly

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A prediction that women will wear solid color hosiery such as greens, browns and some vivid shades of red was made today as defense officials and union leaders met to determine what could be done about the shutdown of silk hosiery mills.

The forecast was voiced by Alexander McKenna, president of the CIO's American Federation of Hosiery Workers. McKenna also branded as "absurd" reports that silk stockings will retail at $5 a pair "by Christmas."

McKenna said that he was confident that American women would not pay $5 for a pair of silk stockings and said such a price would be profiteering. At the same time he criticized hoarding of stockings by women who are now crowding hosiery counters in department stores to buy up large supplies. We warned the women hoarders that they "are very likely to find themselves out of step before the first fall breezes."

"Advance fall and winter styles show stocking matching costumes with solid color hose much in vogue," he declared. "Greens, browns, and some vivid shades will be the thing. The hoarders are buying shades that will be as out of date as yesterday's newspaper."

Union officials at the silk meeting reported that because of the lack of DEARBORN, Mich.—The Ford Motor company has announced that a fleet of "Truck schools" are now touring the nation's army camps and maneuvers training mechanics as they go. A driver and two Ford-trained instructors staff the "rolling classrooms," which, so far, have traversed the country, training officers at camps, who in return train more mechanics. The service was offered the government at no expense.

RESERVE AIR BASE OPENED

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS.—The Navy Department's plan to set up 16 reserve aviation bases throughout the nation is complete now since the last one, located at New Orleans, has been formally dedicated. The air base was dedicated when only 80 per cent completed. It is expected to be finished by the end of summer or before, and then it will have facilities for training 1200 men yearly.

TO THE VOTERS Of Lawrence County

For sometime Lawrence County has had a District Attorney and a full-time Assistant District Attorney. The Assistant receives a salary of Twenty-five hundred ($2500) dollars per year.

It is a well known fact that the District Attorney needs no assistance except for a few weeks during the year. The business of the office does not justify more.

There were a total of fourteen (14) days of Criminal Court trials during the past year. The expense of legal assistance over and above the District Attorney's salary can be reduced to an amount less than one-third (1/3) of what it has heretofore been costing.

If nominated and elected District Attorney of Lawrence County, I will abolish the office of Assistant District Attorney. In the absence of unexpected emergencies greatly increasing the Criminal Court work, I will, with the approval of the Court, appoint only such help as is absolutely necessary for the proper conduct of the office.

COUNTY GARDEN CLUB AT CAMPBELL HOME

Mrs. Ralph Campbell, Hazelcroft avenue, entertained members of the Lawrence County Garden club in her home Thursday afternoon, for their August meeting. A delicious one o'clock luncheon was served by Mrs. Campbell.

During the business period, the club voted to take part in the Men's Garden club flower show this fall. Mrs. C. A. Burkart, Mrs. R. W. Lamoree and Mrs. Harry Wetlich were named on a committee to make arrangements for the 'spot' in the garden display to be entered in this show.

Mrs. Burkart told of a recent tour to Youngstown, when a group toured the beautiful Harris estate there, and under the guidance of Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Owsley went on a tour of Mill Creek Park.

Arrangements of vegetables were used for the club exhibit, and Mrs. L. F. Royston won the prize for the most attractive display. An interesting feature of the program was the "Do You Know?" installment given by Mrs. E. W. Greiner.

All of the members joined in the round table discussion on the topic, "Lattices and Fences."

Next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, September 4, at the Wilmington road home of Mrs. William E. Ferver, at which time Mr. Ferver will speak on "Glads."

ALCANZA KENSINGTON BREAKFASTS AT PARK

Members of the Alcanza Kensington club entertained their husbands at a breakfast at Cascade Park, on Thursday morning, at nine o'clock.

The charge of arrangements for the affair were Mrs. Jeff Shoaf, Mrs. Ben Jones, and Mrs. George Kennedy. Mrs. J. W. Ballantine was a special guest.

Next meeting of the group will be on Thursday, August 28, and will be planned by Mrs. S. A. Richards. Mrs. Harry Ward, Mrs. Frank Mansfield, and Mrs. C. F. Flannery.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WESLEY TRAINED BY HIS MOTHER

John Wesley's mother believed in the influence of early training of children and put her beliefs into practice. The readers of this column may be interested in what the mother of this great preacher said about rearing children.

Prof. Arnold Gesell of Yale university, in his book, "The Guidance of Mental Growth in Infant and Child," quotes from a number of letters of Susan Wesley.

"I thought it my duty to spend some part of the day reading to and instructing my family; and such time I esteemed spent in a way more acceptable to God, than if I had retired to my own private devotions."

"I resolved to begin with my own children; in which I observe the following method: I take such a portion as I can spare each night to discourse with each child apart. On Monday, I talk with Molly; on Tuesday, with Hetty; Wednesday, with Nancy; Thursday, with Jacky; Friday, with Patty; Saturday, with Charles, and with Emily and Sukey together on Sunday." Jacky must have been the famous John.

Susan Wesley's letter. In 1732, the year of George Washington's birth, she wrote to John Wesley.

"Dear Son: According to your desire I have collected the principal rules I have observed in educating my family."

"The children were always put into a regular method of living, in such things as they were capable of from their birth; as in dressing, undressing, changing their linen, etc."

"At 6 o'clock, as soon as family prayers were ended, the children had their supper; at seven, the maid washed them, and got them all to bed at eight; at which time she left them in their several rooms awake, for there was no such thing allowed in our house as sitting by a child till he fell asleep."

"As soon as they were grown pretty strong, they were confined to three meals a day. At dinner their tables and chairs were set near ours where they could be overlooked; and as soon as they could handle a knife and fork, they sat at our table. They were never suffered to choose their meat, but always were made to eat such things as were provided for the family."

Nathaniel Hawthorne's handwriting was so illegible that some of his manuscripts remained unpublished because nobody could read them. This was likewise true of Carlyle. The story is told of a type compositor who was employed by a London printing office because of a strong recommendation which he brought from Scotland. The first piece of manuscript given him to set was by Carlyle.

"My God!" said the new type-setter. "Have you got that man here too? I fled from Scotland to avoid him."

Your left foot is larger than your right—in 99 cases out of 100. Science explains it in many ways; but we accept the easiest one, which is that we are a world of left-footed lounge-ers. We lean against posts and door-jamb, and we do most of our leaning on the left foot; consequently, through the years it has grown to support the weight that the lazy right foot doesn't. The next time you buy shoes, have your left foot measured first.

Good Taste

By E. C. Patent Office

"I have a very good friend who is really charitable and generous, yet he constantly criticizes my department. Don't you think it is very wrong to encourage people to be friendly and visit you, yet talk about them, even trivially, when they leave?"—Marge

Answer: I think that it is a vile thing to do! It is a habit that grows and grows until the perpetrator cannot control his stinging tongue. One of my father's strict rules forbade our criticizing any guest who had just departed. Such an appraisal from one of my brothers as "Old Mrs. Dunn" was all right, but "she certainly has a funny waddle" was promptly rebuked. The true spirit of hospitality, we were taught, extended beyond the period of actual entertainment. It was treacherous to receive some one in our home and then snipe him after he had gone beyond our gate. Critical people make little progress either socially or professionally. The man who ultimately reaches the board of directors is usually the one who has habitually refrained from criticizing even the most reprehensible of his colleagues and superiors.

Question: Are guests obliged to bring gifts when they attend a housewarming?—Julie

Answer: There is no obligation to do so, but guests usually do bring something for the new home.

Question: When should wedding gifts be opened?—Bride

Answer: Wedding gifts are usually sent as soon as invitations are received. They are addressed to the bride who opens them upon receipt and immediately sends a thank you note.

Question: I am going to have a home wedding. Is it proper for the guests to be seated during the ceremony?—Lucile

Answer: No. They should stand during the ceremony.

Question: Is it proper to have a corsage for the guest of honor at a tea, as well as for those pouring?—H

Answer: It is proper, but not necessary.

Tomorrow—Importance of Expressive Face.

What's What At A Glance

Japan's Real Name Is Dai Nippon

Columnist Stewart Points Out Fact

Marco Polo Blamed For Original Error

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Japan's name isn't Japan. It's Dai Nippon. News writers who are engaged in changing long-recognized designations, like Siam, back into Thailand, would do well to take note of this Japanese fact. It would give them a new correction to make in the proper direction, strictly speaking.

Dai means Great. That is, Great Nippon, like Great Britain. Nippon doesn't mean anything in particular, any more than Britain does.

When I visited Dai Nippon, a good many years ago, I wondered how we Occidentals had managed to twist the name into Japan. Dai Nippon and Japan didn't seem to resemble one another a particle.

Managing Editor Mitsunaga of the Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha explained the matter to me.

Nippon means Nippon. Dempo means Telegraph. Tsusin means News. Sha means Corporation.

Well, according to Editor Mitsunaga, Marco Polo perpetrated the original error. Marco, arriving several centuries back, in Yedo, as Tokio, the capital of the empire, then was called, inquired what the name of the country was, and the natives told him—Dai Nippon.

Dai is pronounced Dah-ee, in two syllables. Marco soon ascertained that it meant Great and omitted it from his calculations. Just as we frequently drop the word Great out of our reference to Great Britain. So "Dai" is immaterial.

It's Dah-ee Nee-a-pon

Nippon is vital. It's pronounced something like Nee-a (with the flat sound—pone like corn pone), and the accent's on the last syllable. The initial N, however, is only about 60 per cent N. It has approximately 20 per cent each of J and Y mixed into its pronunciation.

Marco trying to make some Occidental sense out of this conglomeration, decided to "Japan" as a pretty fair stab at it, and in the Occident, it's stayed that way ever since, although, if you say "Japan" right now, only a western educated Jap knows what you're talking about.

In my youthful days Tokio always was spelled Tokio. Now many spell it "Tokyo." I've never grown accustomed to the alteration. As a matter of fact, they're both wrong. Tokio or Tokyo is correctly spelled like this:

Toyo is spelled thusly:

What Jiggers Mean

It will be noted that each of these designations consists of two little jiggers, that the first jigger in each case is exactly the same, in both of them, but that the two second jiggers differ. That's because the first jigger, in each instance, means "east" or "eastern," but the second jigger in Tokyo or Tokio means "capital," whereas the second jigger in Toyo means "ocean" or "oceans."

Well—

Nippon's activities in Toyo are worrying us and Tokyo (or Tokio) resents the form that our worry's taking.

We've governmentally spoken to the mikado's foreign office very uppishly. We've frozen Jap ass in this country, and the Japs have frozen ours back again.

The situation being strained good and plenty Jap aviators bombed one of our gunboats, the Tutuila, in the Yangtze river, damaging it considerably.

Then Ambassador Nomura immediately apologized profusely said the bombing was a pure accident, and promised full indemnification.

Now what's the idea? If the Japs are trying to aggravate us, why do they suddenly pull in their horns when a chance comes for 'em to aggravate us clear beyond the limits of our patience?

It stumps the state department.

Mother said Pap used eight brands of hair restorer, and the part still looks like the Perry highway.

Did your garden do well this summer?

No. Every time my husband started digging, he found a lot of worms, so he'd always quit and go fishing.

Some people cannot read without moving their lips.—Time Judging by the effect on books they also use their teeth and feet.

Another waste of power is the energy expended by millions of ladies in continual effort to pull skirts over their knees.

Rule No. 1

There are 37 rules for success in business. The first is to deliver the goods. Never mind the other 36.

Americanism: Kidding ourselves about all-out defense, allowing manufacturers of autos, electric refrigerators and ranges to make 50 per cent more than last year.

Japs resent race discrimination; but in badly-mixed Hawaii, they alone are proud enough to keep their race pure.

Two male residents of Grand Prairie, Texas, went on a bender a few nights ago and with them they took their billy goat, Lucifer.

They visited every saloon in town and, at every stop Lucifer took a drink of straight whiskey with his owners.

The police chief arrested all three and put them in a cell over night.

The next morning when it was time to go to court, Lucifer was dead.

He had died from acute alcoholism. The two men were released in $200 bail each. This is the first time, to our knowledge that liquor has gotten a goat—but certainly not the first time it's got a man's goat! Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WE ARE MOVING.

There is a disposition on the part of many citizens to belittle the defense preparations; to criticize the men endeavoring to build an Army of tanks, guns and men, and an air force of war planes, with pilots superior to the air force of all nations; particularly, Germany, and in general, insisting that the program of Defense Preparation is slow.

We are an impatient people and that may be an asset to the Nation, and the impatience of these critics will do some good and probably no harm. If the citizen will look at this thing in a realistic, "over-all" basis the achievement already is tremendous and will rapidly become more so.

Our brainy men are not excelled by the men of any nation in their research and efforts for the production of superior airplanes and superior ships and upon these two arms of defense, we must place our major confidence. We do not wish to send our soldiers out of the country to fight in foreign lands; we want an army that can, if necessary, defend.

There has been a great deal of talk about our lack of machine tools. We have been chiefly concentrating on that for the past year, with the result that—in terms of machinery, plant expansion and construction—we are outproducing Nazi Europe by a very wide margin.

Machine tool output is at an unprecedented level—nearly four times that of the fairly active year 1939. Consider the following production gains since the outbreak of the war as taken from the indexes compiled by the Federal Reserve Board: aircraft 360 per cent; shipbuilding 157 per cent; steel ingots 44 per cent; none-ferrous metals, 66 per cent; machinery of all types 84 per cent; locomotives, 170 per cent; railroad cars, 132 per cent.

As one observer has put it: "Cheer up! We are off to a good start!"

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

AUGUST 8

1819—Charles Anderson Dana, famous editor of the New York Sun from 1868 to 1897, at Hindsdale, N. H. For two years during the Civil War he served as special investigating agent of the war department. While on this assignment he urged the placing of Gen. Grant in supreme command of all the armies in the field. Dana's "Reminiscences of the Civil War" was published in 1898.

1839—Nelson Appleton Miles, army officer, at Westchester, Mass. Entering the Union Army in 1861 as a lieutenant of volunteer infantry, his gallant leadership won him rapid promotion to brigadier-general. At the close of the war he was in temporary command of an army corps of 26,000. At that time he was only 25 years old and one of the youngest Union generals in the Civil War.

1863—Florence Merriam Bailey, ornithologist, at Locust Grove, N. Y. After being graduated from Smith college she became an able student of birds, especially those of western North America, and a prolific writer on ornithological subjects. Her writings include "Birds Through an Opera Glass," "Birds of Village and Field" and "Handbook of Birds of the Western United States."

See Population Drop After 1985

Census Figures Also Point To Decreasing Rate Of Growth In Future

By ED NEWMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Trends in the population of the United States indicate that some time after 1980, and probably after 1985, the population of this country will reach its high point, and that an absolute decrease in numbers will set in after that time, according to figures recently released by the bureau of the census.

On the basis of its 1940 returns, the bureau chose one of the estimates published in 1937 by the National Resources Planning Board (at that time the National Resources Committee), and forecast a population of 153,022,000 in 1980, as compared with the 136,448,000 registered in 1940.

All signs point to a steadily decreasing rate of population growth in the next several decades. The rate of growth between 1930 and 1940 was 12 per cent, whereas the expected rate of growth between 1970 and 1980 is only 1.2 per cent. Populations of 140,561,000 in 1950 and 145,987,000 in 1960 are expected. The anticipated 1970 population of 151,770,000 is expected to increase by less than 2,000,000 to the 1980 total.

More Aged Expected
A steady increase in the percentage of the aged within the population is also predicted, and a steady decrease in the percentage of the more youthful. For example, the percentage of those 50 and over is expected to rise from 20.3 in 1940 to 34.1 in 1980, while the percentage of those below 50 will drop from 79.7 to 65.9. Perhaps even more significant, the percentage of those under 25 will fall from 43.3 to 32.4. This tendency is noticeable all along the line, and the lower birth rate is reflected in the fact that the percentage of those under five will change from 8.0 in 1940 to 6.1 in 1980.

According to the estimates, 100 women living through the child-bearing period in 1980 will give birth to about 200 children, while 100 women, living through the child-bearing period in 1940 gave birth to some 220 children.

The breakdown between the sexes reveals that although at present there are more males than females up to the age of 14, that advantage disappears in the 15-19 age range and does not again reappear until the 40-44 period. It then holds on until the 65-69 range, when things are evened up, after which women apparently enjoy greater longevity than men, since, of the population over 75, 19 per cent is male and 21 per cent female.

More Elderly Females
Census bureau estimates indicate that this tendency will be heightened by the change in the age patterns of the population, so that by 1980, 4.6 per cent of the population 75 and over will be male and 5.6 per cent female. However, beginning with 1945, men will maintain their numerical superiority through the 15-19 age period.

Beginning in 1950, men will have an absolute superiority in numbers until the 35-39 age range; in 1960, until the 45-49 age range; in 1970, until the 55-59 age range; and in 1980, until the 60-64 age range. This would indicate that men are finding it easier to live through the period from 15 on, although it might reasonably be expected that the impact of the war will alter that situation.

In line with these changing population patterns, and all they portend for increased expenditures for old-age pensions, possible lessening of unemployment among youth, and the like, there is a bright note. The average life expectancy between 1975 and 1979 will be about 70 years, compared with 65 years between 1935 and 1939.

Changes May Affect Trends
The estimates, of course, do not take into account the possibility of major social changes, such as wars, plagues and natural phenomena, which might affect population trends.

They were prepared for the National Resources Planning Board by Warren S. Thompson and P. K. Whelpton, of the Scripps Foundation for Population Research, and assume "medium" fertility and mortality and no net immigration. Based on the 1930 census returns, and checked against the 1940 figures, they showed a very slight discrepancy, which the census bureau considered so negligible it did not even correct it.

Plan For Fall Defense Program

State College Is Conducting Survey Of Trained Manpower In Industries

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 8.—In preparation for its fall engineering, science, and management defense training program, the Pennsylvania State college is co-operating with the U. S. Office of Education in conducting a survey of the trained manpower needs of 2,500 Pennsylvania industries.

According to J. Orvis Keller, who is in charge of Penn State's extension services, data from the survey will be used to determine the location of defense training programs so that trained men and women may move quickly into industrial positions where they are most needed.

"The Pennsylvania State college, as a state institution," Mr. Keller said, "is ready to do all that its resources allow to meet any of the training needs existing in the commonwealth. The survey will allow the college to set up, without unnecessary duplication of effort, courses of immediate and decisive character to meet this emergency."

The fundamental courses under engineering, design, mineral industries, supervision, management, production, metallurgy, chemistry, and physics, will be supplemented to meet industry's needs as revealed by the survey.

Financed with federal funds under the sponsorship of the U. S. Office of Education, Penn State's engineering defense program this summer is preparing nearly 20,000 men and women for technical jobs in defense industries.

CANARIES FROM JAPAN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Japan, the commerce department said today, is giving this country the bird. The department said that whereas the populace had formerly adjusted themselves to the fact that canaries came from Germany and not from the Canary Islands, they are in for another surprise. Most of the birds now imported are natives of Japan. The department predicted imports of Japanese canaries in the first half of the year will be 50,000 birds, five times as many as for all of 1940.

Fifteen Hundred More Troops Reach Indiantown Gap

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 8.—The 28th Division on Thursday neared full war-time strength with the addition of 1,502 troops, all infantrymen, from Camp Croft, S. C.

The largest single group of trainees to arrive at the reservation since the division was called into Federal service in February, the men are residents of western and central Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Illinois. All were assigned to regiments of the 55th and 56th Infantry Brigades.

Col. Fred N. Kelly, Pottstown, personnel officer, revealed that the "Iron Division" now comprises approximately 16,200 men exclusive of officers. This total is about 1,700 below the authorized strength of 17,945 enlisted soldiers.

The 130th Infantry, commanded by Col. Albert O. King, Altoona, gained 382 recruits from the new arrivals. The regiment now lacks about 300 soldiers of authorized strength.

The 109th Infantry of Scranton, under the command of Lieut. Col. Stanley F. Coar, received 361 of the Camp Croft trainees and now lacks about 300 men of war-time strength.

It is estimated that each person in the United States spends 40 cents a year on books.

No Blitzkrieg War Tactics On Finnish Front

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY IN-SIDE RUSSIA, Aug. 8.—It's beautiful country up here, with one exception. The forests are cool and green. Beautiful little lakes are splashed all over the landscape. Their shores shaded by giant evergreen trees. As far as nature is concerned, it's a sort of paradise, but there's one exception and that is—Death.

Everywhere around us, there is death. Men lie dead and dying in the cool summer shade. The trees, even, are gouged and torn by shell-fire, by bombs and machinegun bullets. And some of them are dying too.

The forest lanes are vast labyrinths of death. Men stalk silently by day and night, through the giant expanse of trees, breaking the silence only with gunfire.

No Blitzkrieg

For they aren't fighting a blitzkrieg war up here. They aren't even fighting with World War tactics, or Civil War tactics.

They're fighting the "Indian war" all over again—a war of stealth and secret movements, a strategy against which the metropolitan Russians and the Reds from the plains and steppes are as defenseless as the British redcoats were during another war, long ago.

The Finns are led by tough young generals, born to the woods, leading armies trained in the Indian warfare they now are fighting.

They don't underestimate the Russians. The Russians are tough. But they're hitting the Red army up here in carefully tested weak points, in stinging, crippling raids—until the enemy some day, according to the Finns, will flounder. And then they will move in for the kill.

The Finns have got fighting generals, men who move about this vast front among their men, keeping their fingers on the farthest outpost where men sit in trees—instead of pill boxes—behind bushes, instead of in the enemy.

And amid this constant, boring waiting and watching they are tense for the next "big push" when it comes.

Three generals I met were characteristic of the Finnish military leaders.

They were all young. All under 60. All deeply tanned and keen-eyed. But they were bitter soldiers. Psychologists, too, who knew the Russian mind (they hope) better than the Russians themselves.

Canada To Mobilize Sixth Division For Service Anywhere

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 8.—Mobilization of a Canadian division for active service "anywhere" was announced today by Leighton Ralston, minister of national defense.

Authorization for the mobilization of the troops to be known as the "Sixth Canadian Division" has been approved and the infantry units necessary for the division already assembled, Col. Ralston said. All that is required to complete the division is of technical and auxiliary troops.

Col. Ralston refused to say if the mobilization step had been hastened by the situation in Japan but declared that "every precaution was being taken for the defense of our Pacific coast."

Col. Ralston revealed that more than 100,000 Canadian soldiers now are in the United Kingdom services in addition to approximately 10,000 Canadian airmen.

SENATOR GUFFEY GETS APPOINTMENT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Senator Alvin W. Barkley, majority leader of the Senate, today announced the appointment of Senator Joseph P. Guffey of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee.

Senator Guffey succeeds Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island who is up for re-election to the Senate next year. The membership of the committee will be announced at a later date.

One of the 60 participants described it as "about the nicest sports affair I've ever attended." The all-day outing is sponsored annually by two well known sportsmen, Richard "Dick" Roberts and H. M. Wirsing. The whole day, another attend-

Urges 50 Per Cent Auto Production Cut For Defense

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A 50 per cent cut in Automobile production would speed up production of defense and consumer goods, Price Administrator Leon Henderson told congress today.

Such a reduction would free vital materials and other materials to defense peacetime industries, Henderson informed the house banking and currency committee as hearings continued on a bill to give President Roosevelt broad powers to set price and rent ceilings.

"I wish I could see a guarantee of 50 per cent cut in auto production," Henderson said.

Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., ranking minority member, asked the price control official what would happen to the purchasing power in Michigan and other states if the cut were ordered.

"I think it would bring about a better status of purchasing power because it would result in a more even distribution of vital materials to all industries," Henderson replied.

Henderson explained that such a cut would free auto plant facilities for additional defense contracts.

"If the automobile industry is permitted to go ahead with its original schedule (20 per cent cut in production) you will have a decrease in purchasing power and farm equipment," he said. "The same is true of railroad cars and anything which interferes with the auto industry."

Hull Replies To Nazi Allegations

Says No American Republic Will Be Deceived By Berlin Statements

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Renewing the charges that Germany has aggressive designs on the western hemisphere, Secretary of State Cordell Hull today declared that an American republic will be deceived by the Nazi allegations that the United States is attempting to subjugate Latin America.

Replying to the German press charges that President Roosevelt is resorting to truthless measures to obtain military bases in Latin America, Hull said that this latest Nazi campaign is so transparent a piece of propaganda that he did not believe it would deceive the people of any country in this hemisphere—much less be seriously considered by them, coming as it does from a group of persons representing a government that has ruthlessly seized some fifteen countries in Europe and has been looking with longing eyes to this hemisphere for further conquest.

Broadcast Stations Will Be Used For Air Raid Warnings

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—James L. Fly, chairman of the defense communications board and the federal communications commission, today announced plans to utilize standard broadcast stations for air raid warnings, communications and other announcements in event of military emergency.

Fly pointed out broadcasting stations would remain in private hands but that facilities would be put on a co-operative basis "except for possible areas of actual combat."

Fly said surveys had found that the present broadcasting structure is well adapted to such uses. Plans now under consideration, he said, center around ways to link broadcast stations to local civilian defense centers for dispatching local and regional warnings and announcements. Also included is a proposed nationwide super network to transmit messages of national scope.

Truce Is Called In Timbermen's Strike

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 8.—The long, hard-fought strike of timbermen in the Fayette and Somerset county area came to an abrupt conclusion today as CIO and operator officials announced they had come to a temporary truce.

Final details on an agreement between the Tri-State Timbermen's Association and the CIO union will be worked out in a series of wage scale sessions beginning Monday, according to Anthony J. Federoff, CIO regional director.

A contract which the operators hold with an independent union, the Tri-State Truckers and Lumbermen's Union, will be voided and the operators will deal with the CIO instead, Federoff added.

ant said, is given over to talking fishing—and more fishing. Everything is informal and speeches are taboo.

C. B. "Rosey" White of New Wilmington, fish warden here, was among the prominent New Castle and county men in attendance.

Evening brought a tasty dinner of delicious corn and baked ham.

Secretary Hull Meets Russians

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today conferred with Soviet Ambassador Constantin Oumansky and Lt. Gen. Philip Golikoff, deputy chief for the Soviet general staff and head of the Soviet military mission in this country.

It is the first time Hull has received the Soviet envoy since the outbreak of the Russo-German war

G. O. P. Congressmen

Firmly Oppose U. S.

Joining Foreign War

Oppose Sending American Army To Take Part In Any Foreign War

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—As congress worked feverishly on vital defense legislation, Republican members of the house were on record today as "firmly opposed to involving this nation in a foreign war."

While G. O. P. leaders admitted there were "some dissenting votes" among the 162 members they announced that the following four-point policy was adopted as a resolution in a conference of minority house members:

1. "We reaffirm the pledge of our 1940 platform: 'We will not participate in any foreign wars, and we will not send our army, naval or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack.'"
2. "We reaffirm the declaration of our party platform: 'We condemn all executive acts and proceedings which might lead to war without the authorization of the congress of the United States.'"
3. "We affirm the declaration of our party platform as follows: 'Our national defense must be so strong that no unfriendly power shall ever set foot on American soil.'"
4. "The 'lease-lend' policy was presented to the American people as a measure short of war. We insist that it be administered as a short of war measure."

Japanese Revive Charges Of Encirclement Effort

U. S.-Britain Are Accused

Report Japan Considering Evacuation Of Nationals From United States

TENSION IS HIGH OVER THAILAND

By JOSEPH DYNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Aug. 8.—Koh Ishii, official Japanese foreign office spokesman, today revived charges of an attempt by Britain and the United States to "encircle" Japan.

At the same time he hinted Japan is considering possible evacuation of her nationals from the United States.

Ishii said the Tokyo government had been compelled to recognize existence of an Anglo-American "encirclement movement" against Japan, militarily, politically and economically.

He added the government took this view despite statements to the contrary by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Tension At High Pitch
(Editor's note: Tension remained at high pitch in the Far East over a possible Japanese move against Thailand.)

A dispatch from Singapore quoted the Thai radio at Bangkok as proclaiming:

"Thailand will never run. They will defend their country to the last drop of blood. Thailand does not need the protection of any power."

(Alluding to Japanese troop concentrations in Indo-China along the Thailand border, the Bangkok announcer added:

"Thailand will resist any encirclement.")

In Tokyo Japanese officials have charged that Britain and Thailand have made preparations to seize key points in Thai territory.

Reply To Eden
Replying to Eden's warning to Japan regarding Thailand, Ishii asked:

"What is the necessity for strong military preparations and for establishment of such a strong British army along the frontier of Thailand?"

"Whether the British deny it or not, the fact is that such military preparations have been made."

Ishii charged these preparations were for the express purpose of encircling Thailand.

He added it was difficult to give credence to Eden's denial of aggressive intentions. He charged that not only the United States and Britain but the Netherlands Indies and China were participating in the move to encircle Japan.

The spokesman reiterated previous denials that Japan is seeking an agreement with the Bangkok government for defense of Thailand.

and also that Japan is awaiting clarification of the United States attitude before sending any more Japanese ships to America.

Questioned regarding possible evacuation of Japanese nationals from the United States, Ishii declared:

"I think that is being discussed in Japan."

He said American ships in Japanese waters are being treated in a manner similar to the treatment given Japanese ships in United States waters and observed that the American freeze of Japanese assets is more severe than that in other countries.

Cabinet Posts Will Be Vacant For Some Time

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Three cabinet vacancies will probably remain unfilled until fall, Gov. Arthur H. James Thursday indicated.

They are the secretaries of health, revenue, and property and supplies.

In addition the governor has yet to name a liquor board member and make a dozen other major appointments.

"I have not given any thought to making appointments," the governor stated. "As soon as I finish the bills and attend to some administrative matters, I want to get away for a rest."

Governor James said he would clear his desk of all bills before him by August 14, the last day he has to act upon them.

Attorney General Claude T. Reno has already completed his work of examining the bills and has left for his vacation.

Study New Safety Rules For London

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Aug. 8.—According to R. W. McKay, advance hearing inspector, department of highway safety, new safety regulations may be expected in the near future for the intersection of highway routes 208 and 258 at London, near here, considered one of the most dangerous crossings in the vicinity.

Several bad accidents have occurred at the intersection within the past few months, the last one, a few weeks ago, involving two cars and 13 people, resulted in the death of one girl.

The spokesman reiterated previous denials that Japan is seeking an agreement with the Bangkok government for defense of Thailand.

He added it was difficult to give credence to Eden's denial of aggressive intentions. He charged that not only the United States and Britain but the Netherlands Indies and China were participating in the move to encircle Japan.

Voters are not going to be worried about any special referendums on wet and dry issues, Sunday movies, bond issues, or the like at the coming election.

Chief Clerk William A. Eakin revealed today that only the names of candidates for the various offices will be on the ballot this fall, and that there are no other issues to come before the voters.

When the main building of the court house was put up, the work of digging the foundation probably took a month or more to do, as even thought of in those days, and the labor was done entirely by hand.

Two days with a big scoop shovel have been sufficient to gouge out a hole big enough for the foundation and basement of the new addition which is now underway.

County tax collectors are slow this month, due to the fact that most everyone who had enough money to pay his taxes paid up last month when there was a rebate.

Taxes are paid at face this month, but a five per cent penalty will be added September 1.

The task of getting the delinquent taxpayers listed and in the hands of the delinquent tax collector on September 1 is a big one, and involves considerable labor in the office of the county treasurer, as everyone has until August 31 to pay up.

A praecipe for attachment of execution in the sum of $1,476.63 has been filed by the Farrell Fur and Supply Co. for use of the Secretary of the Bank of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Receiver of the Colonial Trust Co. of Farrell against Dan Radabaugh.

A declaration and confession of judgment in ejectment has been filed by Harold A. Good, agent for the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company against Frank Cartwright and Grace Cartwright, his wife, claiming the defendants are in default in their rent.

Crete Warfare Is Continuing

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The London Daily Mail reported from Alexandria today that 1,000 British troops and marines are still waging guerrilla warfare on the Greek island of Crete, taken by the Germans after history's first air-borne invasion.

The dispatch said escape for the Britons on the island is impossible since every usable boat is either destroyed or under heavy guard.

Rather than surrender, the Mail said, the British troops have joined up with native mountaineers and for the past two months have been living in caves. By day and night, the report said, they snipe at and ambush Germans, capturing food, ammunition and weapons and sabotaging German supplies.

Cruiser Launching Must Be Postponed

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Indefinite postponement of the launching of U. S. S. Atlanta, a light cruiser nearing completion at the strike-bound shipyards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company, was announced Thursday as an outgrowth of the current tie-up in Kearny, N. J.

A statement issued by the company said:

"L. H. Korndorff, president of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company, announced this afternoon that due to the slowing down of production during the last two weeks and the effect of the strike which caused a complete work stoppage early this morning, it was found necessary to postpone the launching of the U. S. Navy light cruiser U. S. S. Atlanta, scheduled to go down the ways at noon Saturday, Aug. 9."

The statement added that for the same reasons delivery of the U. S. S. Santa Rita to the Grace Lines and launching of a C-2 type cargo vessel for the U. S. Maritime commission will be delayed.

Senator McKellar Suffers Collapse

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Senator Kenneth McKellar (D, Tenn.), collapsed on the floor of the Senate Thursday and was aided to the cloakroom where colleagues said his illness did "not appear to be serious."

The 72-year-old senator had just answered a quorum call and was sitting at his desk when he was stricken.

He paled and slumped down in his chair and was helped from the chamber of Majority Leader Barkley (D, Ky.) and Senator Stewart (D, Tenn.).

In the cloak room, McKellar talked with colleagues while they applied cold towels to his head. Dr. George Calver, congressional physician, arrived a few moments later and said it was "apparently just a fainting spell."

McKellar only recently returned to Washington from Memphis following a long illness during which he underwent a major operation.

Philadelphia To Be Well Decorated

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—This will be "the most decorated city of America" from August 24 to 29 during the national encampment here of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Representatives of 74 business and community associations have pledged $75,000 for lights, military insignia, and flags to brighten every section of the city.

This is in addition to city funds for decoration approved by Mayor Robert E. Lambertson, honorary chairman of the citizens committee in charge of local arrangements for the encampment.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand V. F. W. delegates are expected to come to Philadelphia for the sessions. Mrs. Mabel C. Tanner, national president of the ladies auxiliary, has predicted that 25,000 women members will attend.

Historic Old "Niagara" Will Never Sail Again

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—The historic Frigate "Niagara," from whose decks Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry penned the immortal words "We have met the enemy and they are ours," will never sail inland waters again!

The old ship may never even be completely rebuilt, State Historian S. K. Stevens revealed today, because the legislature failed to approve a $25,000 appropriation for that purpose.

The flagship of the American fleet which defeated the British in 1813 in the Battle of Lake Erie and made possible the winning of the great northwest territory may be doomed to spend its remaining days on hand—propped up on stilts.

The third attempt in 28 years to rebuild the ship and preserve it as a historical shrine came to a halt after the expenditure of from $50,000 to $65,000 by the W. P. A. and State Historical Commission. Stevens estimated that as little as four to ten thousand dollars was needed to complete the work, dependent upon the site chosen for its last resting place.

"One thing is certain," he stated, "The proud old ship will never sail the lakes again. To put it into the water would be to risk having the same thing happen as in 1913, when the ship was rebuilt for the centennial celebration." At that time, after a triumphant trip around the Great Lakes, the ship was permitted to rot at its Lake Erie wharf until it finally sank.

The ship was re-floated in 1923, but the second attempt to reconstruct the vessel came to an end soon after for lack of funds. Now the third reconstruction has run up against the same obstacle.

Before work halted on the ship, the decks and interior were completed. The masts are completed also and lie on the ground alongside her on Presque Isle, near Erie.

Stevens said it would not be safe to put up the masts until a permanent base was built to cradle the ship. The vessel could either be kept at her present position, in which case the work could be completed at a cost of $4,000 to $5,000, or it could be placed in a concrete cradle at a wharf at the foot of State street in Erie. That would cost $10,000, he estimated.

"We have $3,000 left of our original appropriation," he said, "and we're using that money to pay for a caretaker and to provide facilities for the public."

Thousands of sightseers from all over the country are visiting the historic ship, said Stevens, and approximately 20,000 have already seen it this year.

Meanwhile, with the work of completion halted, a proposed celebration of the ship's "launching" was called off. Stevens said representatives of the United States, British and Canadian governments had planned to attend the gala event.

Shenango Foundry Business Shows Steady Increase

South Cascade Street Plant Manufacture Grey Iron Semi-Steel Castings

Engaged in the manufacture of grey iron and semi-steel castings, the Shenango Foundry company, South Cascade street, is showing gradual development.

Despite the fact that the local firm is a comparatively new one, the company is already supplying castings of all kinds to several large out of town firms.

General Manager John A. Panella, commenting about the plant, today said:

"Our business is getting better daily. We are shipping castings to a number of big companies. Some of our work is being consumed by local plants. We are employing close to a dozen men and expect to increase our staff as business increases."

C. A. Jackson, plant manager.

Arrange To Cast Votes Of Soldiers

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—State election officials Thursday were asked to establish machinery to record the vote of Pennsylvania men in military service in conformity with regulations set up by the state department.

A $300,000 appropriation to enable soldiers to vote by mail was recently approved by Gov. Arthur H. James. State officials estimated each mailed ballot will cost counties 43 cents—to be paid by the state.

Election officials may request military ballot for primary, general, special and municipal elections in accordance with the following procedure:

"The elector may apply in writing for a military ballot to the county board of election, the county commissioners, courthouse of the county wherein the elector resided prior to entering military service."

"Upon receipt of the military ballot, the elector may appear before any commissioned officer of the military or naval forces either within or without the commonwealth or before any officer of this or any other state or territory of the U. S. authorized to administer oaths and in the presence of such officer the elector may then mark his ballot."

Applications for military ballots must be made not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days before any election.

Walkout Occurs At Propeller Plant

(International News Service)

CALDWELL, N. J., Aug. 8.—A walkout of several hundred men at the propeller plant of the Curtiss Wright Corp. today imperiled more than $100,000,000 worth of aircraft defense contracts.

The walkout followed an "NLRB election held last night at the plant, and occurred only a few hours before William Knudsen, co-director of OPM, was to arrive on his inspection tour of eastern air plants. A company official said that the vital departments of the plant were at a standstill.

"No formal demand has been made upon us," he said, "and we're still trying to find the leader of this walkout and see what it is they wish."

A lengthy stoppage, the spokesman said, would "undoubtedly" create a "very serious" bottleneck in aviation production. The plant is now engaged in manufacturing propellers for heavy bombers and pursuit planes.

Church Sodality

Event Is Enjoyed

Immaculate Conception Sodality Of St. Lucy's Has Social Gathering Thursday Evening

One of the most successful of social gatherings took place, on Thursday evening, when members of the Immaculate Conception Sodality of St. Lucy's church were the hosts to a large crowd.

At 7 o'clock, activities got under way, with informal pastimes being the diversions of the evening. Dainty refreshments were served later in the evening on tables nicely arranged, and serving were girls of the Sodality, attired in black and white.

Following the serving, an entertaining program was enjoyed with vocal selections being offered by Florence DeLuca, Evelyn DeVivo, pianist, accompanied on the piano, and also rendered several solo selections.

Mary Hope Domenick and Ann Rainey, were co-chairmen for the event, and they were aided by a list of committees, all members of the Sodality.

September 3, is the date for the next meeting.

ENOY CAMPING TRIP

The girls of the Bluebird Court of Women's Benefit Association Review 89, have returned to their homes in the district, after spending a week camping along the Slippery Rock Creek, near Rose Point.

The girls enjoyed swimming and hiking while on their vacation. They were under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret O'Leary and Betty Stritzinger.

CAR STALLED

The Mahoningtown street car was stalled near the corner of West Cherry street on North Liberty street, for more than 15 minutes Thursday afternoon, while the electric power was off due to a breakdown. The passengers in the car sat contentedly and waited for the current to come on.

GROUP MOTORS TO PYMATUNING LAKE

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church motored to Pymatuning lake for an outing and their regular meeting on Thursday.

The group had been invited to the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Waid, located on the east side of the lake. A delicious picnic luncheon was served on the spacious lawn at the home at noon.

During the afternoon hour the members explored the district, seeing the various places of interest there. In the evening a hamburger fry was enjoyed in the out-of-doors.

No Leader For Local Playground

Playground Closed At Present Time—Expect To Name New Leader Soon

So far, no leader has been named for the South Liberty street playground, according to Mrs. Agnes Howley, local director of the NYA Adult-Education department of the WPA.

The local playground was left without a leader by the resignation of James Cardella, who was called to army service the latter part of last month.

Cloister Built By Schwab May Go Up At Auction

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—A cloister built by the late Charles M. Schwab, one-time, multi-millionaire steel magnate, for Carmelite nuns at Loreto, Pa., may soon go on the auction block to pay off a $20,000 bond issue.

According to Attorney C. Randolph Myers of Ebensburg, the nuns are unable to raise the principal and interest on the bonds guaranteed by the late steel maker, who died in 1939 virtually penniless.

Sheltered within the walls of the Carmel of Therese of Lisieux is Schwab's sister, Sister Mary Cecilia of the Blessed Sacrament who prior to entering the convent was known as Miss Mary J. Schwab.

The one-time steel magnate was generally believed to have given the beautiful Norman gothic building to his sister. Last month, holders of the bonds issued by the nuns obtained a court judgment.

Said Attorney Myers: "It looks like a hopeless case. Unlike other organizations or properties of the church, this order is independent and does not come under the jurisdiction of the bishop of the diocese."

DENY REPORT JAPAN CUTS TELEPHONE SERVICE TO U. S.

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—New York Telephone company officials said they had been informed of no severance in communications with Japan.

Regularly scheduled telephone service with Japan, they said, operated only between the hour of 6 p. m. and 3 a. m. (EST). Their wires are slated to reopen to Japan on schedule at 6 p. m. tonight, they said.

Congressman To Name West Point Cadet And Three To Naval Academy

Congressman Louis E. Graham today announced that he will name four appointments to the U. S. Military Academy and three to the U. S. Naval Academy, have been allotted to the 26th congressional district, embracing Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties.

Residents of all three counties of the district will be eligible to compete for the West Point cadetship. Congressman Graham, however, expects to make available an Annapolis appointment to each of the three counties, Lawrence, Butler and Beaver.

One For Each County
"Inasmuch as three appointments are to be made to Annapolis," he explained today, "I plan to limit one to each of the three counties. This will assure a principal and three alternates in each of the counties, whereas in the appointment to West Point, there being only one vacancy, will be open to the youth of all three counties and there will be one principal in that instance and two alternates only."

Mr. Graham will select candidates on the basis of ratings resulting from a preliminary qualifying examination to be given by the Civil Service Commission October 4, this year. Candidates for Annapolis must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age, and West Point applicants must be not under 17 or over 22 years of age on date of admission and not less than five feet six inches in height. All must be bona fide residents of the 26th district.

The successful applicant for the military academy will report on the first Tuesday in March 1942, for examination. If the applicant possesses the requisite qualifications he will be admitted to the West Point institution on July 1, 1942.

The successful applicants for the three naval academy appointments must first submit acceptable certificates of school credits or pass the regular or substantiating examinations on February 18 or April 15, 1942. The successful applicants will be admitted to the Annapolis institution in the class of 1942.

Statement of Congressman
Announcement of three vacancies at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis—The navy department informs me that three vacancies for midshipmen to the U. S. Naval Academy will exist in 1942. All applicants must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age on April 1 of the year of entrance.

Announcement of one vacancy at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point—The war department also informs me that the 26th congressional district is entitled to the appointment of a cadet to the U. S. Military Academy in 1942. Applicants must be not under 17 nor over 22 years of age on the date of admission, and not less than five feet six inches in height.

Examinations
Competitive qualifying examinations will be conducted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission on October 4, 1941, and all boys desiring to be considered for these appointments are invited to participate. The appointments will be based on the results of these examinations and because of the exacting physical requirements it is advisable that candidates appear before a qualified physician and undergo a thorough physical examination, as such action may eliminate the possibility of candidates being nominated and passing the written examination, only to be rejected by the medical officer at West Point or Annapolis.

All applicants must be actual bona fide residents of the 26th congressional district of Pennsylvania. Inasmuch as three appointments are to be made to Annapolis, I plan to limit one to each of the three counties of Beaver, Lawrence and Butler. This will assure a principal and three alternates in each of the counties, whereas in the appointment to West Point, there being only one vacancy, it will be open to the youth of all three counties and there will be one principal in this instance and two alternates only.

All qualified applicants desiring to compete in the preliminary examination must notify me at Room 1628, New House Office building, Washington, D. C., not later than Monday, September 8, 1941, in order that necessary arrangements may be made with the Civil Service Commission. Owing to the large volume of work before the commission applications received after September 8 cannot be considered. These preliminary mental tests given by the Civil Service Commission at my request are for the designation of candidates to the academies and not for their admission. They will be held in the federal buildings in the respective counties and each applicant will be furnished with a letter authorizing him to compete and advising him of the time and place of the examinations. There is no need for a personal interview as the appointments will be based solely on the results of the examinations.

LOUIS E. GRAHAM,
Member of Congress
26th District, Pennsylvania.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Pennsylvania received $1,342,343,000 in defense orders during the last fiscal year, according to figures compiled by the office of government reports in New York. . . . The state was fourth in the country in defense contracts, being exceeded only by California, with $2,061,525,000; New York, $1,754,629,000; and New Jersey, $1,409,899,000. . . . The only other state in the billion dollar class was Michigan, with $1,094,917,000. . . . Most of the money went to firms in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas. . . . In all, $17,164,915,000 in defense orders was given out up to last July 1.

Former Secretary of Revenue William J. Hamilton, Jr., revealed at the state capital before he left for home, that he would have been a candidate in the Philadelphia G. O. P. primary for city controller if he had been dismissed from his cabinet post a week earlier. . . . The governor did not fire Hamilton until after the time was past for the withdrawal of candidates' nominating petitions. . . . Hamilton is backing a city-county unity slate, which is opposing the candidates supported by the regular organization of Joseph N. Pew, Jr., of Chester, unofficial party head. . . . It was for this political activity that the governor fired him, contending he could not devote his time to his cabinet post while engaging in a political battle.

Fears are being expressed that Pennsylvania's $71,000,000 turnpike will soon be disfigured by the appearance of billboards advertising commercial products. . . . Several signs have already appeared, located on private property. . . . The builders attempted to prevent unsightly advertising by constructing the super highway with an ample right of way on either side, but several signs have already gone up at the Carlisle terminus, with no redress apparently left to the turnpike commission.

The new ruling by the State Department of Public Assistance, that relief recipients must henceforth sign a pledge of patriotism before they can become eligible for state aid, appears to be the only thing the state can do under the new anti-subversive acts approved by the last legislature. . . . The bills were aimed at removing Communists from public, educational and relief rolls. . . . The administration has already revealed that it feels the acts are not stringent enough to permit the dismissal of subversive elements.

Elect McCandless New Councilman

Named To Fill Vacancy Caused By A. J. Howell's Resignation

OTHER ACTION IN COUNCIL SESSION

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Joe McCandless, Jr., was elected to serve as fourth ward councilman last night at the regular meeting of council held in city building to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. J. Howell.

Howell presented his resignation at the opening of the meeting stating that he had moved to a different part of the city. A vote of appreciation was expressed for his services. McCandless was nominated by Cliff Baader and no other names were presented. The term expires the first of January.

With J. C. Boyd protesting one of the bills listed for payment, the meeting was delayed for sometime in starting. The bill had been presented by Burgess McGillicy and was for more than two hundred dollars, which is a larger sum than any official is permitted to accept during any one period. Councilman Lanz said that McGillicy had purchased a camera for the police department and that being in that business he had made the purchase because he could do so at cost. The councilor said the action was in order, the burgess was acting as agent for the boro, and it was pointed out that council had directed him to buy the camera. Boyd said the camera was to cost two hundred dollars and that the present bill was more than four hundred dollars, including a previous payment. The police committee was instructed to investigate the matter. An ordinance establishing the 1941 electric rate for domestic and commercial users was passed on first reading. The chart of rates was prepared by electrical engineers employed by the boro and it is finally adopted will provide a decrease over the current rate.

To Buy Boro Dump
A resolution calling for the purchase of property in North Sewickley township, near Belton, to be used as a boro dump, at a cost of not more than $800 was adopted. An ordinance calling for the testing of gasoline pumps and tanks at regular periods was passed on first reading as were a number of others calling for the improvement of various connecting streets.

An ordinance through which a small part of North Sewickley township between South Fifth street and Aiken avenue, would be added to the boro was passed on first reading. Eleven families live in the district. Before final adoption the school board will be asked to consider the matter.

A request of the Sons of Italy Lodge to have a V for Victory sign placed on top of the city building and illuminated was referred to the rules and regulation committee with power to act.

Ask Street Completion
Headed by M. G. Murray, a delegation of Clover avenue residents attended the meeting and demanded the completion of the street, which is in progress of top surfacing. Boro Manager Monroe said that the W. P. A. forces for street work had been decreased from 25 to 30 because of increased industrial activity, and that no skilled labor was available at all. He said the street work would be completed as soon as enough stone was broken to take care of a minimum car of asphalt.

Complaining that he had been locked out of a Ewing Park building, a representative of an athletic club asked permission to use the building for storing equipment. Because other groups also want the building, a motion that the club be given the privilege was lost by a tie vote. A motion was then passed that council look around for a place where this and other clubs might meet.

Fire Chief's Report
Report of the fire chief for the month of July showed three fires with a total damage of $1175. A recommendation by the fire committee that $200 be appropriated to the fire department for taking the American LaFrance truck to parade was adopted. No agreement could be reached upon the type of new truck to be purchased for the department and the matter will again be considered by the fire and finance committees. It is understood that the department wants an aerial truck, which would cost approximately $15,000.

A complaint was received from J. I. Porter protesting the bus stop in front of his store. He said that people waiting for the bus block the entrance to his store, and litter the entrance with debris. The matter was referred to the burgess and police committee.

Bid for sanitary sewer materials through Forest Hills to the government housing project was awarded to the E. S. Scanton company. The extension of Pershing street to the project will also be paved, with the work being done by the state.

Tax returns for July amounted to $68 for 1939; $97 for 1940 and $5,635 for 1941.

Contagious diseases included in the health officer's report were: of whooping cough; 6 of measles; and 3 of infantile paralysis.

At the next meeting of council an appeal board for the zoning ordinance will be appointed. The board will include three local men.

Mrs. Sarah Caldwell Is Taken By Death

Funeral Services Sunday Afternoon From Home Of Son, A. O. Caldwell

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Jane Wiley Caldwell, aged 79 years, passed away at 3:55 o'clock this morning at the home of her son, A. O. Caldwell, Broadway avenue, Homestead. She had been ill for the past eight months.

A daughter of the late Phillip Wiley, she was born at Frisco and had resided her entire lifetime in this vicinity. She was well known and loved by many friends and relatives. Her husband, John Caldwell, died fifteen years ago.

In addition to her son, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma McQuiston, of North Sewickley, two grand and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home, Rev. P. H. Dauben-speck, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, and Rev. L. A. Lichtitz, pastor of the Lilyville Church of God, will officiate. Interment will be made in the North Sewickley cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Jones Honored By Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Anna Jones was delightfully honored last evening when members of the Canfield club held a farewell party in her honor at the home of Mrs. Ida Duncan, Spring avenue. Mrs. Jones is leaving on Monday for Detroit, Mich., where she will reside with her son James, and during the evening she was presented with a beautiful fitted traveling bag.

Cards and bingo held the attention of the group with the attractive prizes going to Mrs. Ida Duncan, Mrs. Lottie Fye and Mrs. Mary McKim for cards, and Mrs. J. N. Mackey for bingo. The hostess was aided in serving a delicious lunch by Mrs. Sussanne Stevenson, Mrs. Iva Forsythe and Mrs. Mary McKim.

The next meeting of the club will be in the form of a picnic at Ewing Park on Thursday, August 28.

Plans were made to meet again on Thursday, September 4, at Ewing Park grove for a picnic supper.

Mrs. Bruce Myers Is Given Farewell

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—A lovely farewell party for Mrs. Bruce Myers, Todd avenue, was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Maxwell, Franklin avenue. The group included the T. O. B. club and five special guests, Mrs. Robert Adler, Mrs. Thomas Mulcahy, Mrs. George Kay, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. Charles Parker.

The Myerses are moving to Martins Ferry, O., next Friday, where Mr. Myers accepted a position several months ago.

Bridge provided the pleasant diversion with the top honors going to Mrs. Joe Latiano and Mrs. Charles Parker. Amidst lovely decorations, the hostess served a tempting lunch.

Mrs. Myers was presented with many beautiful gifts.

Next Thursday the group will be guests of Mrs. Latiano, Odd street.

Ellwood Raises $3631 In U.S.O. Drive

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 8.—The Chamber of Commerce headquarters of the recent U. S. O. drive announced today that a check for $3631.36 would be mailed to the national headquarters of the U. S. O. Ellwood City's contribution toward furnishing club recreation for our soldiers and sailors on their furlough hours.

U. S. O. officials are jubilant over the splendid fund raised here in Ellwood City and wish to again thank those workers who worked faithfully to obtain the total amount mentioned above.

Ellwood City citizens again did their bit toward going over the top for the national defense program.

Milk Control Commission To Hold Hearing

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Acting on a petition of the statewide area milk producers, the milk control commission today scheduled a public hearing for that area on producer, wholesale and retail milk prices.

The hearing will be held in Hearing Room No. 1 of the Public Service Commission, Harrisburg, on August 14, at 10:30 a. m., D. S. T.

Major items slated for consideration at the hearing are the producer prices for all classes of milk, the consumer and wholesale prices for fluid milk and cream, and revision of the territorial boundaries of the Statewide milk marketing area.

At the present time, this Area No. 11 consists of all territory not included in any of the other milk marketing areas of the Commonwealth, namely areas nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, and 15. This Statewide area, Area No. 11, comprises the more thinly settled, less populous areas throughout the Commonwealth, covering approximately four-fifths of the area of the Commonwealth, but embracing only about 16 per cent of the total population. Requests have been made to change some of the larger population centers in this area into some one of the other areas, most of which carry at present a one cent higher price.

NEW FILM HOUSE

(International News Service)

CAMP POLK, La.—Camp Polk now has one of the most modern army theatres in the country, a 1,038-seat movie house recently opened. The new theater is the camp's second. The first was opened June 2. A stage for "flesh" productions was installed in the fireproof building, which has a washed air system for summer cooling and winter heat. Dressing rooms backstage also were installed.

Chlorine Fumes
Overcome Fifty
Men In Jersey

Fumes Escape From Railroad Tank Car At Kearney, New Jersey

(International News Service)

KEARNEY, N. J., Aug. 8.—More than 50 men were recovering from the effects of chlorine fumes which escaped from a railroad tank car on a switch at the Standard Naphthalene Products Co. and spread over the Jersey meadows, felling its victims.

Some of those overcome were found wandering in the tall grass of the meadows, with hacking coughs. Many had lost all sense of what they were doing.

Twelve men in the roundhouse of the Pennsylvania railroad Kearny yards, a mile from the scene of the leak, were knocked out by the fumes, which are similar to those used as the base of poison gas in war time. Motorists driving past the Naphthalene plant also were stricken.

In serious condition were Frank Leach, 57, railroad man of Wilmington, Del., in St. Francis hospital, Jersey City, and John Kisak, who was in West Hudson hospital, Kearny.

As police reconstructed the accident, tank cars were pushed into the company siding yesterday afternoon and a hose was attached to storage tanks. Later last night, another switching engine pushed two more tank cars into the siding and apparently the hose was knocked off the first tank car.

Ethel Merman Is Sued For Divorce

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Ethel Merman, Broadway musical comedy star, who was sued for divorce in Hollywood by William J. Smith, actor's agent, today said that "my husband and I agreed some time ago that our marriage was a mistake."

"Being in a show, I could not myself take the necessary action," she declared. "There is absolutely no rancor on my part. That is all I can say."

The couple married last November and separated December 5.

Same Old Story
 Santa Monica, Calif., Aug. 8.—It was the old story of career vs. marriage that broke up the marriage of Ethel Merman, stage and screen singer, and William J. Smith, film agent, according to Smith's divorce suit on file today.

Smith charged that the blues singer preferred Broadway to Hollywood and refused to make her home with him in the film city. They were married November 16, 1940, in Elkhorn, Md., and separated five weeks later, the complaint stated. The suit was filed June 3 in Santa Monica but was not made public until today.

Playground Show
Stops Passing Cars

So entertaining was Thursday's Jones park playground amateur show that normal Moravia street auto traffic got tangled up when curious motorists halted their cars to watch it.

Master of ceremonies for the stunts, viewed by a huge throng, was Henry Bogden, South Side merchants provided the handsome prizes.

Junior Filigenzi took first honors in the afternoon performance while Mary Johns won second and David Moses third. There were several guest performers.

The Filigenzi trio (Karl Mooney, Angelo Filigenzi and Edward Jarosz) scored a hit with the audience.

Edward Jarosz, the playground supervisor, was in charge of the show. He said another is planned.

New Parole Board
To Be Organized

Hope To Reduce Crime In State By Providing More Efficient Plan

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Pennsylvania prepared today to institute a streamlined parole system which it was hoped would reduce crime by providing for a more efficient plan of supervision over convicts freed from custody "during good behavior."

Gov. Arthur H. James approved the bill sponsored by Rep. Samuel M. Rosenfeld (D) Philadelphia setting up a five-member Pennsylvania board of parole with jurisdiction over all persons sentenced to more than two years or more. He voted a similar measure in 1936 for lack of funds. The present bill carries a $400,000 appropriation.

The present state board of pardons, composed of the lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, attorney general and secretary of the Commonwealth, will continue to handle appeals and life imprisonment cases and retain the authority to reduce by commutation minimum sentences in other cases.

The new board may exercise its powers only after the expiration of the minimum term of imprisonment fixed by the court or by the pardon board in a sentence which has been reduced by commutation. It will have the power to grant paroles of its own motion "whenever in its judgment the interests of justice require it."

Members of the board, the chairman of which will receive $10,500 a year and the remaining members $10,000, must be appointed by the governor by October 1, 1941, subject later to senate confirmation. They will serve for four years, excepting that in the first appointment, two members shall be named for two-year terms and the others for four years.

Upon appointment the board will immediately set up the new system appointing the necessary officers, clerks and employees. In all other respects, however, the act does not become effective until June 1, 1942.

Probe Theft Of
Checks At Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Aug. 8.—Police this week are investigating the alleged defrauding of the State Farm Bureau Cooperative association out of about $800 by means of passing worthless checks.

P. R. Jamison, manager of the bureau, said Thursday that nine checks, with his name forged on them, have been returned to a local bank after having been passed in four stores in Sharon, Youngstown, Warren and New Castle. Jamison said he believes the checks were stolen from the bureau's office on Wilson avenue, Mercer, July 24, when it was burglarized.

At the time of the burglary, it was discovered that an unsuccessful attempt was made to break open the safe, and that a chewing gum vending machine was robbed.

Theft of the blank checks, however, was not discovered until they were returned to the local bank. Jamison said all nine checks had been taken from the middle of the bureau's check book and were passed the week following the burglary.

Police said that a check protector was stolen from the same office one year ago.

News Briefs
From City Hall

Police yesterday at four p. m. rushed to the Citizens National bank when the burglar alarm sounded at police headquarters. It was a false alarm.

Curbs have been set and most of the store base has been placed in North Jefferson street between Wilmington and Leasure avenues. The city intends to put down a black top surface. It is a city-WPA project.

Lieutenant of police James Steiner today warned that speeding in Cascade boulevard will result in arrest. Signs are to be placed warning against speeding. The speeding followed the city's action in grading and scraping the southerly route to Cascade Park.

Sam Priesta has received a city building permit to build a one-story concrete block addition at 1205 South Mill street.

Plans To Get Steel "Scrap" Are Studied

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Threatening further curtailment of production of civilian goods, steel output this year may fall from 6,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons, below the 27,000,000-ton goal set by national defense officials, a survey shows today.

Some steel experts, saying privately that the situation is much more serious than thus far admitted, place the shortage estimates as high as 14,000,000 tons.

Since defense needs are to be filled first, this means that production of goods containing steel for civilian use will have to be cut more drastically than hitherto planned.

OPM officials are admitting officially that the shortage of pig iron in the next six months may total 5,000,000 tons. Steel is made from 50 per cent pig iron and 44 per cent iron and steel scrap.

The situation in scrap is even more serious than in pig iron. Some mills already are beginning to cut production while some west coast foundries have been forced to shut down because of scrap shortages.

Further, there is only a six weeks supply of scrap in the hands of mills, dealers and automobile wreckers. Unless collections are stepped up quickly, mills may be forced to curb operations sharply by mid-October or November.

Plans Considered
Many plans are being considered to increase collections. One campaign already is under way in Ohio and it will be extended to other states. It calls for a drive to get all old automobiles in used car "graveyards" into scrap markets.

However, some OPM steel experts are pessimistic over its results. They say that the price of scrap iron, which was frozen by federal price control administrator Leon Henderson, must be boosted to make collections worthwhile for junkmen.

Opacs says, however, that an increase in the price of scrap would lead to an increase in finished steel, a rise in the price of automobiles and other durable goods, and finally would contribute to an inflationary spiral.

As a result, it appears that OPM and PACS, which quarreled over a proposed 50 per cent automobile cut may enter into another tug of war.
There is some disagreement among steel experts of various defense agencies as to the ultimate solution of the scrap problem. None of them appear to know definitely whether there is enough scrap in the United States to take care of increasing defense demands.

Nor would any of them hazard a guess as to whether there would have to be a scrap collection similar to the recent house-to-house aluminum campaign. It is generally agreed, however, that old railroad trackage which has fallen into disuse should be torn up for scrap.

Deplores Gas Waste From Lax Attention To Car's Equipment

While the spotlight is on gasoline conservation along the Atlantic seaboard, where a shortage is threatened due to tanker-transportation facilities, President Alex. Samuels of the New Castle Motor club today declared that motor fuel economy by motorists everywhere offers a sure way to cut operating costs.

Pointing to recent tests by national headquarters of the American Automobile Association in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Standards, Samuels said that they demonstrated that 14.7 per cent of the gas used represented sheer waste from one major cause alone, the failure to maintain the vehicle properly adjusted for fuel economy.

Applied to 1940 gas consumption figures—some 22,000,000,000 gallons—it means that 3,240,000 gallons were wasted. Improper driving practices also contributed to the waste.

Will Present "The Boomerang" Twice In County

JUDGE M. C. SUMMERS

Judge and Mrs. M. C. Summers, of LaVerne, Cal., will present their drama "The Boomerang" at the Epworth Methodist church on East Washington street, on Wednesday evening, August 13, at 8 o'clock, and in the United Presbyterian church in Ellwood City, on Thursday evening, August 14.

"The Boomerang" was written by Judge and Mrs. Summers and is said to be inspired by the data compiled by the National Safety Council, statistics at the time it was written in 1938 showing that 108 persons were killed daily in America in motor vehicle accidents.

Judge Summers, former Public Prosecutor and Founder of the Court of General Sessions at St. Louis, Mo., is one of America's outstanding writers and lecturers on economics and financial laws, and Mrs. E. Jean Gibson-Summers is a nationally acknowledged authority on Child Welfare, writer and director of Religious Pageantry.

The Summers have been greeted with crowded houses all along their trip across the United States, and they have set aside six months of this year to cross the continent and dramatize the moral conditions as the judge finds them in dealing with offenders in his court. There will be no admission as this public-minded couple are doing this work in the interest of the nation and its future.

Secret German Formula May Help U. S. In Solving Its Critical Aluminum Shortage

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 8.—A secret aluminum flux formula smuggled out of Germany three months ago, has been offered to the OPM by an Indianapolis chemist, as an aid in solving the nation's critical aluminum shortage.

The offer was made by H. E. VonGrimenstein who said he has manufactured quantities of the flux and tested it thoroughly.

Developed by a German professor, the formula was smuggled to VonGrimenstein after being sent in code to Sweden and then clearing the British censors in Jerusalem.

He asserted that use of the formula—an operation costing less than five cents per hundred pounds of metal—would improve the quality of aluminum, help to eliminate waste, clear it of obnoxious chlorides and permit the wider use of junk aluminum for airplane manufacture.

VonGrimenstein pointed out that one of the chief bottlenecks in the production of aluminum is the inability to use the junk metal now being collected in a nation-wide drive for airplane parts.

The German flux, he said, will cut down power consumption by making aluminum free running at 200 degrees less than the temperature now in general use; will permit the making of more perfect thin castings, save 50 per cent in machine time and give longer life to cutting tools; allow less shrinkage; permit smoother surfaces and saving polishing time; and quicken the entire operation without affecting the chemical analysis of the metal.

VonGrimenstein, although of German ancestry, was born in Minnesota. His father served in the German army and then with the Union troops during the Civil War. He expressed a willingness to cooperate in making the flux available to all aluminum-producing and defense industries.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

USE SWEET CORN SOON TO GET BEST QUALITY.

Best quality in sweet corn depends upon two conditions, both of which can be controlled. It should be pulled as soon as the grains are fully matured. While the sap is in the milk stage the corn contains the most sugar. As the corn becomes older or more mature, the sugar changes into starch. Numerous experiments have shown that sugar changes to starch after pulling and that the rapidity of change is in proportion to temperature. Corn pulled and placed at once in cold storage, at 32 degrees Fahrenheit, will practically maintain its quality for a week. The rate of change from sugar to starch doubles for each 18 degrees rise in temperature. Therefore, corn stored at 50 degrees or electric refrigerator temperature will change twice as fast as at 32 degrees. It stored at 68 degrees or common cellar temperature the change is four times as rapid, and at 86 degrees or outdoor summer temperature the change is eight times as fast as at 32 degrees. Therefore, corn pulled young and used immediately or placed in cold storage should have excellent quality, while corn pulled on Friday, sold on Saturday, and eaten on Sunday if kept only at outdoor temperature, will have lost most of its quality.

PRESENT CARE AFF-CTS NEXT YEAR'S BERRIES.

Proper care of the runner plants is the most urgent job facing the strawberry grower. A few growers still use the old practice of cutting off the first plants, largely because this allows working with the cultivator to continue and reduces the amount of hoeing needed. It has been shown, however, that these early runners are by far the heaviest bearers of any produced during the season, and their removal destroys the best prospects for the next year's crop.

Another practice to be discouraged is that of throwing the runners "back into the row" with the cultivator. As a result, the plants get much too thick in the row and the spread of the plants is not sufficient to make the best use of the land.

In contrast to these practices, runner plants should be encouraged to take root as promptly as possible and should be spaced about 6 to 11 inches apart. This will hasten the development of a full row of plants about 3 feet wide.

Experiments show the increase in yield resulting from proper spacing. Plants spaced 2 inches apart produced 42 bushels of marketable fruit to the acre. At 6 inches apart the yield was 119 bushels. Nine-inch spacing gave 131 bushels. At 15 inches apart the yield was only 97 bushels. Fruit from the less crowded rows had much better keeping quality than that from the 2-inch spacing.

In another experiment the varieties Premier, Blakemore, Catskill, Dorsett, and Fairfax produced an average yield of 179 quarts of berries over three-fourths inch in diameter when the plants stood about 27 inches apart. At 7 inches the yield was 418 quarts and at 11 inches 828 quarts. These results were without irrigation. With various degrees of irrigation the corresponding average yields were 1438, 2656, and 2721 quarts for the three spacings, respectively.

Lawrence county growers who have paid little attention to plant spacing apparently can gain much more from their berry plants, according to these figures. Fertilization is another seasonal practice now. Nitrogenous fertilizers, such as nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia, applied during the first half of August will result in a heavier set of flower buds in the strawberry.

A higher percentage of these buds will develop into fruits next spring. It is recommended that an application of about 250 pounds to the acre for patches not previously fertilized, while 125 to 150 pounds should be sufficient for plantings which received an early side dressing of nitrogen.

CARE WILL HELP TOMATO CROP YIELD AND QUALITY. Tomato yields still are in the uncertain stage but, with favorable weather and careful picking, the yield and quality may not be below average and should greatly exceed last year's mark. The hot, dry season followed by wet weather has caused some blossoms to drop from the early clusters, but this loss may be partly overcome by a good picking season and careful management of the pickers.

With rank vine growth and rows sometimes spaced too closely, special care should be exercised by the pickers. Red ripe tomatoes weigh more and sell for more than only partially ripened fruit. Once a week may be often enough to pick early in the season and when the weather is good, but in hot, dry weather twice a week is better.

Since a ten-ton crop of tomatoes requires 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 pounds of water, hand hoeing to remove weeds missed by the cultivator may will increase profits.

GUERNSEY SHOW.

Plans are being made by members of the Lawrence-Butler Breeds Association for a special Guernsey Cattle Show in connection with the Butler Fair, according to Glenn Lockhart, director of the Association. The association is cooperating with the Fair Association in sponsoring this show. All Guernseys to be exhibited will belong to members of the Association from the two counties.

The judging will take place on Wednesday, August 13 and will be done by Mr. Houston, of the Framchester Farms of Ohio. This will be a unique show in that the best animals are being selected by a committee, from the herds of the Association members.

BUY RIGHT WHEN YOU GET ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT.

With the increase in rural electrification, many families will buy electrical equipment as finances permit. Whether to buy or not, what piece to buy first and what to add next, are individual family problems, reminds Mrs. Julia Taylor, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County.

A good guide is what will bring the greatest returns to the family in saving of time, labor, and money, and in satisfaction. For example a washing machine may mean saving of a laundry bill. If the laundry has been done by hand at home, time and energy can be saved. Having decided to buy the piece of equipment what should one know about it? How can one get information?

It is suggested that the family read literature put out by different manufacturers. This makes them familiar with vocabulary required to ask questions and interpret the replies. Magazine articles appear from time to time, circulars are put out by the agricultural extension service, all of which will help to familiarize one with the appliances and make a final decision.

Buying from a reliable dealer and manufacturer is important. They are ready to stand back of the guarantee but the buyer should know what the guarantee covers as to labor and parts. A careful buyer will always ask where new parts can be bought, and what is the length of guarantee.

Safety measures should be considered in buying equipment. It is recommended that one buy that which has been approved by the Board of Fire Underwriters. This proves that the equipment has been tested by the Underwriters' Laboratories and has met safety requirements. Some questions to ask the salesman—Is it approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters? Does it have a written guarantee of what service the guarantee covers? Is it guaranteed against defects in materials and workmanship for a definite period of time? Does it have a guarantee to replace defective parts within a certain period? If the equipment is not satisfactory, can it be returned or replaced? What is the wattage of the piece of equipment, the size of wiring and amount of voltage required for satisfactory service. Is there a book of instruction with it on care and use of the equipment? Is there any extra cost for delivery and installation? What is the extra cost on the installment plan? Is there a cash reduction when paying cash?

What has become of wrong-way Corrigan? This is no time for an Atlantic flyer to leave the country unadvised. Hitler's ego must have suffered a little when he discovered that people who abhorred Communism prefer it to him.

Berlin Claims Another Dunkerque Is Facing Russians

Strategic City Of Odessa Lies Under Constant Peril, Is Assertion

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Russia is faced with "another Dunkerque" in the Baltic states and the strategic city of Odessa lies under constant peril from rapidly advancing Axis troops, authorized German military quarters said today.

"German armies," they said, "are rapidly closing in on both Leningrad and Odessa."

Elaborating on an earlier communication by the high command which reported annihilation of another Soviet force southeast of

Uman in the Ukraine and capture of another 30,000 Soviet prisoners, these quarters said the German forces were still "tightening the Leningrad ring."

On the northern front, these official quarters said, one wedge of the German forces reached the Baltic near Narva yesterday and another at Weissenberg today, cutting off the remainder of the Soviets in the Baltic countries "where they are facing annihilation and capture unless they are able to escape by sea which is most difficult as was proved at Dunkerque."

On the southern front, they said, the position of Odessa is becoming increasingly precarious.

Among the 30,000 captives which the high command communique said were captured was the commander-in-chief of the sixth Soviet army and a number of other high officers. "Large booty" was taken, an official announcement said.

Quits Ranks Of Army Objectors

(International News Service)

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 8.—Lawrence Scott Brooks, 21, formerly connected with the Salem Salvation Army, who had been sent to a camp for "conscientious objectors," today was ready to go with the next draft contingent tomorrow to serve in Uncle Sam's army. He was in the "objectors" camp just two hours. He explained:

"It just took me two hours in camp to find that I was not a conscientious objector at heart. When I registered, I felt that I could not be a Christian and fight. Now I want to do my duty as a citizen."

Visit To Churchill Thrills Torpedoed American Nurses

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 8.—"Thank you for the generous impulse that brought you here."

"It's worth being torpedoed and doused in the Atlantic to have Winston Churchill say that to me," Miss Ruth Martin, one of 16 American Red Cross nurses, told me as we stepped out of Number 10 Downing Street.

"With Windsor Castle and Westminster Abbey I can forget about lost silk stockings! And today I've met the Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill—didn't you love the flowers on her hat?"

I invited three of the nurses to lunch. They seemed delighted to get away from their school-girl troupes.

We went over it all again. They repeated the little anecdotes Mrs. Churchill had told them and what the Prime Minister had said as he hurried off to hug with the King.

Wanted To Hug Him

"I wanted to put my arms around him and hug him; he looked so kind," said Lillian Evans of Arlington, Mass., the youngest in the group (just my age.) It's nice to see young American girls again!

Lunch (hamburgers) and numerous interruptions but finally their story came out. Between the three of them, Ruth, Lillian and Marion, I pieced together a very vivid, sordid picture of today's war on the seas.

Trouble started for them six days out of port when the German submarines located their convoy. From then on things were seldom quiet.

"Our boat won't get hit!" All three girls at once felt that way. They knew better now.

Lillian Evans was down in her cabin putting on an extra pair of slacks and three sweaters when it happened. They all, apparently, piled on all the underwear, dresses and coats they could, then fastened their lifeboats overall and made their way on deck.

A Terrific Jar

"There was a terrific jar, like a head-on collision," Lill explained.

"Then everything started falling down." One of the lifeboats was damaged by the explosion so they had to pile into the other three.

"No one was hysterical. I guess we were all too frightened to think much. Some of us rowed—I helped bail out the boat with my hat!" Lillian was in the boat that overturned. She had to swim to the tanker that stopped to pick them up. A rope ladder was lowered but she couldn't climb it. It would bang against the bow of the ship and throw her back into the sea.

"Once I almost reached the top another inch or two and I could have grabbed the railing."

"That time I fell a long way down but I knew I mustn't die. The news would have killed my mother and I didn't want her to die!"

"The sailors finally lowered a boat and came out to pick us up. They looked like Gods coming towards me in their black rubber suits and yellow hats."

Now Lillian has a new hero—the Captain. "His boat was not damaged to stop and pick us up. He disobeyed orders. We'd have drowned if he hadn't."

Then she told me about her mittens—fur-lined mittens. She'd thrown them away when she started to bail out the boat but her hands got cold so she reached out and snatched them back from the sea. She's got them with her still.

A young girl like me, she'd wanted to come over here just as I had. I hate the ocean. The thought of the possibility of drowning scares me to death! I wonder if I'd been as enthusiastic about coming to England if I hadn't had a nice fat Pan American Airways ticket in my pocket.

I asked Ruth Martin, of Washington, D. C., if she wanted to go back to the States.

Would Like To Return

"Yes I do. Just for a week and then I'd want to come right back again. I want to tell the people back home how I feel."

"I'd go out in the street, grab the first soap I could find and tell them at home what's happening in the Atlantic."

"There's not a chance of my coming. I haven't the money to fly and it takes too long the other way. All I want to do is ask one question."

"Our government is spending billions of dollars on material for England—why doesn't it see to it those materials are safely delivered?"

Urges Conventions Be Barred From Washington, D. C.

Would Have Hotels Close Doors To Conventions At Capital During Emergency

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Federal Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson today asked Washington hotels to close their doors to conventions for the duration of the national defense emergency.

Pointing out that the capital is the "nerve center of the national defense effort," Henderson said that he disagreed with the Washington Hotel Association over the contention that the capital has ample hotel accommodations for convention visitors.

He said that there is a shortage of hotel rooms, and warned the hotel association that unless it closes hotels to conventions that OPACS "will lend the weight of its public influence to the move for complete discontinuance of conventions in Washington for the duration of the emergency."

Henderson also told the hotel association that the presence of conventions in Washington might interfere with the effective functioning of important government business besides straining all of Washington's traffic and eating facilities. He said:

"In addition to the effect on hotel room vacancies the presence of conventions in Washington contributes to the growing difficulties of restaurant facilities, the availability of taxicabs, and the general congestion in the city, which is bound to interfere with the function of important business activity during the emergency."

New Parole Board Plan Is Approved

Governor Signs Measure—Five-Member Board Will Be Appointed

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Gov. Arthur H. James on Thursday signed the Rosenfeld bill providing for a unified system of parole under the supervision of a five-member Pennsylvania board of parole.

The chairman will receive $10,500 a year and other members $10,000 each. They will be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate and will serve for four year terms. The bill contains a $400,000 appropriation for the new board's expenses.

A general director of parole will be appointed by the board at a salary of $7,500 a year to administer the new act. For administrative purposes the state will be divided into not more than 10 districts, with district offices created to supervise paroles. Each district parole office will be in charge of a supervisor receiving a salary of $5,000 annually.

Members of the board are to be appointed by Oct. 1, 1941, and the system is to be set up immediately thereafter and the remaining provisions of the act are to become effective June 1, 1942.

House Sustains President's Veto Of Highway Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The house, by a narrow margin of one vote, Thursday voted to sustain president Roosevelt's veto of the $320,000,000 defense highway bill.

A two-thirds majority is required to override a presidential veto.

The vote was 251 in favor of overriding the veto, 128 against. A two-thirds majority of those voting would have been 252.

The action automatically kills the bill in its present form although the senate previously had voted to override the veto.

So close was the vote on the first roll call that House Speaker Rayburn (D., Tex.), ordered a recapitulation without announcing the first tabulation.

"Vice Is Out" Is Military Law In Southern Areas

(Special To The News)

CAMP POLK, La., Aug. 8.—Vice is out.

That brief ultimatum is military law in the maneuver area in Louisiana, where some quarter million Third Army soldiers are assembling for war games in August and September.

Working for months with Louisiana health authorities and law enforcement agencies, Third Army officials have put into effect a program designed to keep every soldier and officer in the best physical condition. The plan was born in the office of Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana last Spring when he first conferred with high-ranking Third Army officers on the matter.

Military and civil authorities have clamped down on every known house of prostitution in the maneuver area, and are putting under quarantine all persons in the infectious stages of venereal diseases. Trailer girls are prohibited in the maneuver area.

Gambling houses are being closed down daily and places of a doubtful nature are being constantly watched.

Not only are the soldiers being protected, but civilians are being protected from any disease, which might be found among the troops. Isolation and evacuation is the verdict when communicable diseases are found in the military ranks.

Already this civil-military agency has effectively closed many gambling houses and houses of prostitution. Officers working jointly seized and destroyed over $100,000 worth of gambling equipment.

DEFENSE PROGRAM EFFECT IS FELT IN POULTRY BUSINESS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Even barnyard chickens are following the effects of the national defense program.

As a result of the shortage of aluminum, poultry breeders are faced with the problem of procuring metal leg bands for chickens.

Agriculture officials said aluminum bands are used exclusively in poultry standardization work and urge that breeders forward discarded bands to Harrisburg. Meanwhile, efforts will be made to secure permission from federal authorities to have old bands processed for use as new ones.

NEW ARMY SLOGAN

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga.—Recruiting officers had a new slogan today—"Join the army and get a raise." Private Ralph Abernathy, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., left a city job at Inglewood, Cal., to join the service. The job was to be held open for him. The other day he received notice that his salary, when he gets back, will be $10 higher.

Arms Production Race Depends On Outcome Of Russian-Nazi War

By ARTHUR F. HERMAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Military authorities declared today that 1942 will see the United States and Great Britain able to out-produce Germany in all ordnance categories—with a big "if" in the statement.

The "if" hinges upon the outcome of the bloody Russo-German war, and the condition of Russian munitions plants and power facilities in the event of a German victory.

If Russia goes down fighting, destroying her factories, mines and dams, as well as her farm fields as she retreats, Germany will find little to add to her already tremendous supply of munitions factories in central Europe.

If, on the other hand, Russia's fall parallels that of France, Russian munitions facilities, her mechanized equipment and ammunition dumps, will become part of the Nazi spoils of victory.

In this latter event, it is freely predicted that the American arms program will again be expanded to offset the increased Nazi productive strength.

In 1942, after completion of the American munitions program, the United States and Britain will have facilities to produce munitions for approximately 8,000,000 soldiers in the field. This potential production is viewed as being appreciably greater than Germany's capacity, estimated currently at enough to supply her army of 7,000,000.

The Allied powers, in addition, have access to the raw materials of war far in excess of Germany, even conceding a German victory in the Russian campaign.

Experts point out that it would take Germany long months to reconstruct Russian communications lines after victory, before she could utilize Russia's rich raw materials deposits.

The United States and Great Britain, on the other hand, have unimpeded access to the chemicals, metals and fuels of the western hemisphere and Africa.

Beginning with the spring of 1942 one war department official estimates, the United States will be supplying ample amounts of the shells and explosives used by England and other Allies of the democracies.

He declared that with American munitions production capacity sufficient to wage a major war, and the necessity of training workers and ironing "kinks" out of the munitions program, the United States has no alternative but to keep her plant running at somewhere near capacity.

Storage facilities for munitions are ample, but powder and shells go "stale" and useless after a period, and it becomes necessary to unload and reload them.

Rather than resort to this expensive and risky operation, this official said, the United States would much prefer to lend or lease her surplus munitions to Britain, at the same time freeing British men and materials and factories for use in other vital war industries.

Car Inspection Stations Are Cut

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Pennsylvania officials cancelled the certificates of 1,433 official automobile inspection stations this year for improper conduct of their business, the state police disclosed today.

The authority for 553 additional stations to operate was suspended and 954 garages were warned to abide by regulations or they would lose their status.

The police found the stations in question violating the motor code in varying forms, largely providing official stickers for cars without proper inspections.

Cut In Auto Speed Is Urged By Adams

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—State Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams today suggested a nationwide 40-mile speed limit fixed by the federal government as the best way to conserve gasoline in America's efforts to save fuel for defense purposes.

In addition to cutting down consumption of fuel, the veteran of 36 years police and highway safety work added "On top of that, you'd get a by-product in the saving of thousands of lives... velocity kill people."

Adams said experiments showed a stock car averaged 20 miles a gallon at a 30-mile-an-hour speed, 17.2 miles per gallon at 50 miles and only 13.5 miles per gallon at 70 Speed limits over the nation range from 25 to 60 miles an hour.

ARMY PILOT HAS VERY CLOSE CALL

Private Mitchell Completes Course At Radio School

Son Of Captain George F. Mitchell Gets Radio School Diploma

Uncle Sam's Army Air Corps had an additional 131 radio men today as a class which included, Private George F. Mitchell, Jr., of New Castle, received diplomas in a special graduation exercise at Scott Field, Ill.

Private Mitchell, son of Captain George F. Mitchell, Sr., commanding officer of Battery F, 190th Field Artillery, completed the regular 22-week radio operators and mechanics course at "the radio university" of the air corps.

Classes graduate every two weeks at Scott Field and average nearly 300 students in each class. The graduation at this time was a special one, ordered by the department of communications because of a change in scheduled.

Photography To Be Stressed At Girl Scout Camp

Local Girls Will Enter Pictures In National Scout Photo Contest

One of the activities that will be stressed most at the Girl Scout camp this season will be photography, is the belief of the camp counselors.

This year there is to be a national contest for Girl Scouts, known as The Girl Scout Photo Contest. Valuable awards for making photographs of Girl Scout outdoor activities—at camps, on mariner cruises—in fact, anywhere out-of-doors.

All Girl Scouts are eligible to enter the contest, in which the judges will be nationally known men and women. The contest will close on September 30.

From the opening of Scout camp on Sunday, August 10, until the close on Sunday, August 24, Girl Scout cameras will be clicking, making permanent memories of happy days at camp.

Miss Jane Solomon, a New Castle girl, will be one of the counselors in the older girl unit, and she will give much of her time to the photography group in camp. Jane just graduated from Slippery Rock State Teachers college, and she is well-known among the girls in scouting.

Old-Age Insurance Payments Up In '41

First Three Months Show 25 Per Cent Rise For Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 8.—Monthly old-age and survivors insurance payments in Pennsylvania increased more than 25 per cent during the first three months of 1941, both in the number of recipients and in the amount of money.

It was announced today by William L. Dill, regional director of the Social Security Board.

At the end of March, 32,865 men, women and children were receiving monthly checks which amounted to $607,707, it was revealed by figures just tabulated. This, Dill pointed out, was at the rate of $7,292,000 a year.

The figures relate only to the all-federal family insurance plan and do not include allowances under any of the federal-state public assistance programs.

While gains were registered in all six types of monthly payments, exceptional increases were made in payments to widows. A 63 per cent rise was recorded in payments to widows above 65, who are not required to have dependent children in order to be eligible. Monthly checks were sent in March to 844 such widows and amounted to $17,102. A 35 per cent increase in payments to widows with dependent children was revealed. These payments are made regardless of the widow's age. The March checks amounted to $62,994 for 3,221 such widows.

Dill explained that the increase in claims from aged widows is at least partly attributable to the amendment operation of a 1939 law which permits workers to become fully insured after they attain age 65.

For the first time since monthly benefits became payable at the start of 1940, the number of retired workers fell below 50 per cent of the total. In March, 16,038 retired workers drew checks for $369,854. Increased employment opportunities have caused many retired workers to leave the benefit rolls and return to work in defense and related employment. When they cease work again, their monthly benefits will be resumed.

Confessed "Fences" Given Prison Terms

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—Five self-admitted "fences" who disposed of jewelry, silver and gold valued at $350,000 stolen by members of the Grierson Brothers gang were sentenced to prison terms.

Sentences imposed were: Sam Roberts and Abe Lampenfield, 18 to 36 months each in the workhouse; Alex Weinberger, Braddock, 9 to 18 months in the workhouse; Sam Canterman, East Liberty, and Joe Nagarra, Braddock, 6 to 12 months each in jail.

Leaders of the gang drew penitentiary terms last June.

It isn't public opinion that is slow. Politicians are slow to realize which part of public opinion has the most votes.

SHORTAGE OF HOUSEMAIDS

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—The demand for housemaids is becoming as acute in St. Louis as the need of skilled workmen in defense industries. The Missouri Employment Service reported recently that it had 750 requests for maids to stay on the premises which it was unable to fill. The principal reason seems to be that women and girls prefer the shorter hours afforded by factory jobs and other types of employment readily available since the national defense program was launched.

City Golf Title Play Starts Soon

Qualifying Is Now Under Way At Sylvan Heights Golf Course

ENTRIES CLOSE ON AUGUST 19

Qualifying for the city golf championship has already been started at Sylvan Heights course. Manager Chris Coulthard stated today, and will end on August 19, when the pairings for championship play will get under way.

Frank Moser, the current champion, will not be present to defend his title, having removed from the city soon after winning the title last year. He came here with the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company and played a fine brand of golf, but has since removed to Camden, N. J., where he is working at the Camden plant of the Universal company.

As a result, the field will be open for a brand new champion this year and some very fine golfers have signified their intention of entering and are already pointing toward the championship play. Anyone of a dozen fine golfers who play at the Sylvan Heights course might get the title as they are playing that kind of golf right now.

Moser won the title by defeating Martin Segedi of this city 6 and 5, having a three under par round of 69 to gain four strokes on the runner-up in his morning round, and coasting through to the title.

Segedi is grooming for the title play, but he is going to have plenty of opposition, with Teddy Lach, Herman "Hackett" Kennedy and Louis Mollis of this city, and Frank DeMauro, Mitty Macgregor, Marty Kovach, Steve Yeager, Ed Kardian of Ellwood City and a number of others playing a fine brand of golf at the present time. Castle Hills also has some splendid players who will be trying their hand at the time, which embraces the entire county.

Entries are now being accepted at Sylvan Heights course.

Softball Games On Card Tonight

Four more Lawrence County softball league games will be played this evening, with all games starting at 6 o'clock. The Ellport Tigers will play the Fannins at the Rose Avenue Field.

The Johnson Bronzes will journey to the Rad Field to tangle with the Radiator Works team. The Columbus Club tied for first place will battle the Ellwood Sons of Italy at the Ewing Park Field in Ellwood City. The Valentinos will play the Donofrios at the Progressive Field in Mahoningtown.

Hillville Leads In County League

Bessemer Hopes To Stop Rush Of Hillville Sunday At Bessemer Field

Hillville is leading the Lawrence County baseball league today with five wins and one loss, their most recent win being over Ellwood City, 6 to 0.

Sunday the Bessemer team with Hardesty, their ace, on the mound hope to upset the league leaders and make an interesting race out of it. Hardesty has a real jinx on the Hillville boys, never having been on the losing end in a game with the Hillville team. He hopes to continue his mastery over the Bessemer rivals.

Should Draw Crowd
The game at Bessemer starts at 3 o'clock and should draw the largest crowd of the season to the Cement Town diamond. Amens or Johnny Tapp will lead the Hillville flingings. Manager Jim Martin is confident that his Bessemer boys will emerge victors on Sunday.

Following is the standing of the league to date:

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|--------------|---|---|------|
| Hillville | 5 | 1 | .833 |
| Bessemer | 3 | 2 | .600 |
| Ellwood City | 2 | 3 | .400 |

FLATS VS. ELDERS
First place will be at stake tonight on Clifton Flats field.

The crucial clash pits the hard hitting Clifton Flats and Elder A. A. The game starts at 6 o'clock. Gociano or Smiley will pitch for the Flats with Stolice the likely mound choice for the Elders.

The biggest crowd of the season is expected to witness the game.

West Pittsburg Defeats Slovaks

Dombeck Grants Slovaks But Three Hits In Swell Pitching Effort

Behind the swell three-hit pitching of Dombeck the West Pittsburg Gas House gang took a city league win at the Clifton Flats Field last night 10 to 3. The game was called by darkness at the end of the fifth.

Gonet and Lenhart did the Slovak hurling and gave up nine hits. Heavy slugging of the ball was done by Dombeck, Aloe, James Marky, Mike Marky and Mehalec.

The West Pittsburgs had a big first inning, getting four of their runs. Outside of the first inning the Slovaks could not solve the tricky Dombeck delivery.

Homestead Greys To Play Elders

Famous Colored Baseball Team Will Play At Marshall Field August 27

Joseph Eddy, chairman of the Elder A. C. baseball committee made the announcement today that the fans of New Castle have been waiting for a chance to see the famous colored Homestead Greys team in action. They will be here for a twilight game with the Elders at 5:30 o'clock on the night of Wednesday August 27.

This will be one of the biggest twilight games of the season here and will no doubt pack the popular east side ball field to capacity strength.

Manager Joe O'Leary will groom his three fine hurlers—Leroy Anderson, Dick Withrow and Dory Gunnett for mound duty against the heavy slugging Greys. O'Leary plans to use his regular Elder team in the game and will not pick up any local or foreign stars.

The New Castle fans have been clamoring for a "big league" attraction at the Marshall field and this game should satisfy their appetites. Eddy will have more details in a few days, he announced.

Sports scrappings:

Four weeks from tonight, New Castle High's 1941 gridiron machine dances across the chalk lines of Taggart stadium against Grove City. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will chaperone his proteges to Muddy Creek Falls during the fall end of August for autumn maneuvers.

Latest odds on the New York Yankees to nab the American league banner are 6-1. And Joe Louis is a 5-1 shot to eradicate Lou Nova and his cosmic sock. Johnny Lindell, grazing on the Newark farm of the Yankees, is a $100,000 chattel, according to George Uhle, Brooklyn Dodger ivory seeker.

Scholastic difficulties may cost Minnesota the grid services of Joe Mernik, whose learned toe flattened Northwestern and Michigan in 1940. Lee Grissom of the Phils has the worst record in the National league. His earned run average, however, is among the top. That's how futile it is throwing behind a team like the Phils.

Dan "Dutch" Meyer, the second sacker being tested by the Detroit Tigers, was a great footballer at Texas Christian. His unc. "Dutch" Meyer, is coach there. Ex-champ Jack Sharkey, who picked Billy Conn to dethrone Joe Louis, has jumped the Lou Nova bandwagon.

The Washington Redskins are booked to train for six days in ritzy Colorado Springs hostelry. Sam Alexander, the ex-major league star, has been re-engaged as pilot of the Greenville Burley Cubs of the Appalachian circuit. Illinois university starts football drills on September 10. Bob Zuppke has invited 58 candidates.

Marquette's publicity department says that the institution has adopted the system of numbers as players jerseys. Many colleges are wondering if Uncle Sam will call a moratorium on night games. Such a move would necessitate a lot of schedule juggling. Caleb Gates Jr., 37-year-old chancellor of the U. of Denver, was a lineman and weight lifter at Princeton.

Croton Surprises Moose Club 2 To 1

Dolly Hartman Has Better Of Denny And Hartman In Pitching Battle

Croton A. C. staged the biggest upset of the city baseball second-half to date last night at the Cascade Street field by defeating the Moose Club 2 to 1, to drag the Moose club out of first place.

Dolly Hartman seems to be improving with age, because last night he pitched the Moose ragged, allowing seven hits but being very effective with men on base. He fanned six batters and walked three.

Joe Mazzini won the game for Croton by driving in Rico with the winning tally in the last of the sixth innings. Monk Rainey, who went to the relief of Denny, was charged with the defeat.

West Side Tops Elders 4 To 3

Hank Faller Has Better Of Gunnett In Hurling Battle At Lee Avenue

Hank Faller bested Dory Gunnett in a pitching battle at the Lee Avenue field last night to give the West Side A. C. a 4 to 3 win over the Elders in a City league battle.

The West Side had one big inning—the third—scoring all four of their runs on bunched hits and errors. The Elders could not hit Faller with men on base.

Donofrios Trip Fannins 11 To 1

Young Lebone on the knoll for the Donofrio softball team came within a lone bingle of entering the local softball hall of fame last night at the Rose Avenue field, as he limited the heavy slugging Fannins to a single hit to beat them 11 to 1. This was a postponed game.

Donofrio with a double and two triples and Hutnick with a homer led the Donofrios hitting attack. Fazzone did the best hitting for the losers and was also the losing hurler. Tonight the Donofrios play the Valentinos at Progressive Field.

New York Gets Louis-Nova Bout

Mike Jacobs To Officially Announce September 19 Date Today

CHALLENGER MAY TRAIN IN 'JERSEY'

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Writers)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The prize fight plug of the summer season, the heavyweight title bout between Lou Nova and Champion Joe Louis, will be held at the Yankee stadium, New York, Sept. 19. That's official and confirmation of the date and site may be made this afternoon by Promoter Mike Jacobs.

monopolist of the break-busting racket, who has been toying with several out of town offers for the past several weeks.

As reported here July 15, the biggest money match of the year, which may gross $650,000, was signed sealed and delivered to the Yankee stadium after several conferences between John Roxborough Jacobs and Ed Barrow, president of the N. Y. Yankees baseball club.

Dispute With Carlen
Jacobs hinted yesterday he would probably announce the all important site and date of the "big fight" today. The only reason he's kept it a secret, though the deal has been closed for a month, is a dispute with Ray Carlen, Nova's manager, of the choice of a training site for Lou.

Carlen and Nova had a deal all closed for the challenger to train at Grossinger's Country Club, Ferndale, N. Y. Mike thinks that's too far from the city and that not enough citizens who represent his cash customers could get a peek at Mr. Nova.

So all week they've been arguing and now Carlen has about given up on the idea of Grossinger's and is trying to find a spot in New Jersey which will suit him. He doesn't care for Pompton Lakes or Summit but is interested in a site near Paterson. If that falls through he'll probably have to take either of the others.

Pirates Again Defeat Chicago

Lloyd Dietz Goes To Aid Of Heintzelman As Pirates
Win 4 To 3

FELLER BEATEN
BY TIGERS 4 TO 3

By PAT ROBINSON

(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Have you ever noticed how the players of a contending ball club will take furtive glances at the score board to discover how their closest rival is making out?

Until quite recently the Cardinals and Dodgers have been watching each other like hawks, and paying no attention to any of the other clubs. But now, if you follow them closely, you will not them both following the fortunes of the rip-snort-ing Pirates.

And with reason. Any club that can climb from last place to third in three months and win 18 of its last 21 games, as the Pirates have done, is not to be ignored.

The Pirates are still very much a pennant threat and nobody realizes it better than Leo Durocher of the Dodgers and Billy Southworth of the Cardinals. Those veterans know from experience what an aroused and fighting club can do when it gets hot.

And the Pirates are not only hot; they are positively blazing as they continue to burn up the National League circuit with power and speed to back up sound pitching.

Good Relief Hurling
If the Pirates should overhaul either of both the front runners no little part of the credit for their success should go to Lloyd Dietz and Bob Kluge, two fellows whose sterling relief pitching has been overlooked in some quarters.

Dietz was called on again yesterday as early as the second inning when the Cubs scored all their runs and he held the Cubs scoreless for the rest of the route and eventually was returned a 4-3 winner when Al Lopez hit a game-winning homer off Jake Mooty in the ninth.

That victory enabled the Pirates to pick up half a game on the idle Dodgers and kept them on an even keel with the Cardinals who had to travel 11 heats to get a 3-2 verdict over Bucky Walters of the Reds. The Cardinals thus moved back into the lead by one point but the Dodgers can regain the coveted top by trimming the Braves today while the Cardinals are idle.

Yankees Trimmed
Those were the only games in the National but in the American the Red Sox overcame on Lefty Gomez to beat the Yanks 9-5. Ted Williams who hit his 22nd homer and a brace of singles was hardly more moving than some of his pals who hit him several runs with errors.

The Senators staged a two run win in the ninth to beat Tom Fellers of the Athletics, 5-4 and the Indiana blew a chance to pick up a game on the Yanks when the Tigers beat Bob Feller in 13 innings, 4-3. Johnny Gorsica had a 3-0 shutout in hand until the ninth when Clarence Campbell's homer with two aboard tied the score. Schoolboy Rowe then held the Indians at bay the rest of the trip.

In a night game in St. Louis, the White Sox vanquished the Browns 11 to 1 in a 17 hit assault on Galehouse, Newlin and McKain.

Hank Greenberg
Makes Sudden
Return To Game

(International News Service)
JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 8.—Hank Greenberg, with nearly three months in the army under his belt, still has his batting eye and the officials and inmates at the Jackson state prison were still talking today about his totally unexpected return to the game.

The boys from the reception center at Fort Custer dropped over to Jackson prison to take on the institution's baseball team. Hank was among the visitors from the camp and in no time flat he was persuaded to play first base—but for the prison nine.

Big Hank played like he was back in the Detroit Tiger lineup. He was up four times for a perfect day at bat. He knocked out a 390-foot home run, two doubles and a single to the cheers of 4,000 convicts who saw their team swamp the army boys 10 to 2.

Dodgers Win In Johnson Bronze Loop

Dodgers defeated the Pirates, 10 to 5, in a softball game in the Johnson Bronze inter-shop circuit yesterday at Gaston park. The losers scored twice in the fifth and three times in the seventh. The winners scored one run in the first and at the end of the fifth frame they had scored eight runs and topped this off with two more in the sixth.

Score by innings: R H E
Pirates 000 020 3—5 10 0
Dodgers 123 202 x—10 16 0
Batteries—Dodgers: Witkowski and Miller; Pirates: Miller and Joe.

Joe Wood, Jr.,
Hurls No-Hitter

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 8.—Joe Wood, Jr., son of Smokey Joe Wood, Yale University athletic coach and former major league star, today entered baseball's hall of fame after pitching a no-hit no-run game as Scranton defeated Albany, 5 to 0 in an eastern league night game.

Wood fanned five men and walked three. Young Wood, whose performance was witnessed by a crowd including his parents, was given a tremendous ovation as he finished his brilliant mound performance. He pitched for Yale this Spring.

Elders-Slovaks
Battle Tonight

Tonight at Marshall field the Slovaks will battle the Elder A. C. in a postponed city league game at 6 o'clock. It was announced by Manager Joe O'Leary.

Witherow or Anderson will do the flinging for the Elders with Balla ready to take the hill for the Slovaks.

Nice night last night wasn't it . . . nice for sleeping . . . cool and restful . . . it would have been fine to sleep in this morning . . . and then again . . . why sleep all one's time away . . . get up and see things. Talking about seeing things, think if you really want to see the country (United States from coast to coast) buy a trailer . . . we had the privilege of examining one last night . . . and they sure are smooth . . . hook it on to the back end of your auto and take your time . . . a home away from home is the right way to think about a trailer . . . good sleeping quarters, a nice little galley and eating space . . . everything right handy . . . good heating stove for chilly days . . . yes sir, when all this trouble is over and peace once again is ruler, we are going to save our pennies and do some traveling . . . take time . . . it would be a wonderful education for the "little queen" and you could do the same with your "little queens" and "little kings"

There's going to be a little horse show Sunday at Highland Camps of Edinboro . . . some of our local boys and girls will be showing . . . Highland Camps is composed of a boys' camp and a girls' camp . . . Camp Cusawago for boys and Camp Tecumseh for girls . . . the show will be at the girls' division and will start at 2:30 P. M. The New Castle campers that will take part are listed below: John Thayer, Bobby Crawford, Danny Carroll, Ann Carroll, Paul and Charles Cuba and Mary Lou Campbell . . . other New Castle campers who will be on hand to see you: Dick Whitaker, Charles Cobau, John Vandling, Mary Skeen Mathews, Piper Preston and Pearson. First . . . parents and friends are invited and any one else who would like to see a good show and visit a fine camp . . . so plan your day accordingly.

Folks, some folks . . . have been complaining about the blowing of the fire whistle in the early hours of the morning . . . they say they can't see the point .

Henderson Sees Possible Big Increase In Non-Defense Unemployment

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A temporary increase of more than 2,000,000 unemployed in non-defense industries as a result of the nation's arms program was foreseen as a possibility today by Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Henderson made the prediction to newspapermen during a hearing by the House Banking and Currency committee on a bill to give the President broad powers to control rents and commodity prices. Henderson has been testifying before the committee for four days.

On the witness stand earlier, Henderson under questioning, declared that a dislocation of peacetime industrial habits is resulting from the switch from consumer to defense production.

He explained that at the time England was turning from peacetime to defense output, there was a temporary drop of 20 to 25 per cent in employment.

"That situation exists to some extent today in this country," Henderson commented.

Later Henderson amplified his testimony by telling newspapermen that it was entirely possible that between two and two and a half million workers in non-defense industries might lose their jobs temporarily because of lack of raw materials.

He declared, however, that "most of the slack" eventually would be taken up as workers were added to payrolls in defense plants.

Market Price Changes Small

Trading Is Narrow In Market With Price Changes Comparatively Small

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The stock market today held within the narrow trading limits of recent sessions, with the general price averages showing little change from last night's closing levels.

There were a few notable price swings. Consolidated Aircraft continued an active favorite, rising better than a point to a new 1941 peak above 40. Swift & Co. also reached new high ground on a fractional advance to 25.

Allied Chemical ran up more than a point, along with Sears Roebuck, which was ex-dividend 1/2. U. S. Gypsum and Lone Star Cement each dropped about a point at their lows.

Steels were mixed and dull. Bethlehem, ex-dividend 1 1/2, gained a fraction, while U. S. Steel lost as much. In the motors, Chrysler advanced slightly as General Motors eased.

Coppers, oils, and rail equipments were a shade lower. Indecisive movements were the rule in farm implements, rails, utilities, rubbers and electrical equipments.

Role Of Rubber Held Vital For Combat Planes

Tires, Bullet-Sealing Gas Tanks, De-icers Most Important

(International News Service) AKRON, O., Aug. 8.—Rubber has become so important to national defense that more than 50 different articles of natural and synthetic rubber are listed as "necessary" in the production of combat airplanes alone, according to John L. Collyer, president of The B. F. Goodrich Company.

Based on a recent survey made by the company, Collyer said that without rubber modern aircraft would lose much of their efficiency and would be of little value to America's defense efforts.

Without rubber tires the striving toward even greater aircraft speeds and flight range would be futile, for speedy combat planes and heavily-loaded bombers would be unable to take-off and land safely, Collyer noted.

Mirroring the importance of tires, the survey showed that more than 70 active the specifications and over 100 specifications for aviation tubes, strengthened with heat-resisting rubber, are now available for aircraft use.

Latest contributions of the rubber industry to national defense, according to the survey, are the bullet-sealing fuel tanks for airplanes that seal themselves when punctured by machine gun bullets, and reduce not only the leakage of fuel, but the hazard of fire.

Aircraft De-Icers, developed during the past 10 years are widely used by airlines as protection against the formation of ice in flight, are now being installed on military airplanes. Other rubber aviation parts, Collyer said, include engine mountings, gasoline and fuel hose, upholstery materials, cements, and special parts to insulate airplanes against noise and vibration.

Large Diamond Is Causing Stir In Brazilian Circles

Report Impoverished Prospector Possesses Diamond Of 8,780 Carats

(International News Service) RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 8.—Brazilian officials today awaited an official report from Fortaleza concerning a story published in the local newspaper "O Estado" to the effect that an 8,780 carat diamond had been found by an impoverished prospector.

"O Estado" said that the stone had been brought into Fortaleza by its finder, identified as Jose Mendonca, and was under examination by diamond experts.

The largest diamond ever mined was the famed Cullinan, which weighed 3,016 carats in the rough. With the stone enroute to Rio de Janeiro for examination, Mendonca was interviewed by "O Estado" and said he had bought it from an Indian for $20. The Indian was said to have found it during road-building excavations at Uajarara in the inland state of Ceara.

More than 1,000 visitors poured in on Mendonca today only to learn that the stone was out of his hands. Some Brazilian experts were inclined to believe that the stone, which weighs more than four pounds may be Topaz.

Two Projects Are Favored

House Committee Reports Approval Of St. Lawrence And Florida Canals

URGE PROJECTS BE CONSTRUCTED SOON

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The house rivers and harbors committee today approved both the proposed Florida ship canal and the controversial St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

Committee action recommended that both projects be included in the pending "omnibus" rivers and harbors improvement bill, which is expected to be presented to the house later.

The vote on the St. Lawrence seaway was 17 to 8, and the tabulation on the ship canal was reported as 14 to 10.

As tentatively approved by the committee weeks ago the rivers and harbors improvement bill contained approximately 175 individual projects which would require an expenditure of $281,872,650.

Other Projects
Largest of the original projects which have committee approval are: Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway, $66,000,000; Illinois Waterway and Indiana Harbor Canal, $35,900,000; Savannah River and Clark Hill Reservoir, Ga., $28,000,000; Umatilla Dam, Columbia River, Oregon, and Washington, $23,700,000, and the East River, N. Y., $34,509,000.

Addition of the seaway to the rivers and harbors bill would, in effect, postpone for some time the actual construction of the project because the list originally was designed to provide a backlog of public works to be pushed through at the conclusion of the defense program.

Informed congressmen have insisted that administration leaders in the house have hesitated to push through the seaway as an individual project because they feared opposition was too great.

As proof that such is the case those sources point to the fact that no attempt was made to rush the seaway which was filed after President Roosevelt in a special message June 5 asked for legislative approval on the grounds it was vital to defense.

Tax Bill Boost To Four Billion Dollars Asked

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau and his aides today asked congress to increase the pending $3,200,000,000 tax bill to $4,000,000,000 by the adoption of a five-point program calling for lowered personal income exemptions and increases in other levies.

Treasury officials, testifying before the senate finance committee, proposed that not only the tax base be broadened, but that requirements for married persons who file separate returns be tightened, and surtaxes, gift and estate levies boosted.

Also suggested was a plan to simplify the filing of returns by low income groups.

Morgenthau was insistent that the senate at least restore the $300,000,000 which the house lopped off when it eliminated a provision from the bill requiring husbands and wives to file joint returns. But he proposed that the measure be increased even beyond this figure.

Coal Trucks In Collision At Noon

Drivers Escape Serious Injury In Spectacular Crash Near New Wilmington

Two coal trucks, well loaded, en route from mines in the Grove City district to Lowellville and Youngstown, Ohio, were involved in a spectacular collision just east of New Wilmington on Route 278 at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon.

Charles Dennison, Jr., aged 25, of R. P. D. No. 2, Grove City, was attempting to pass another truck driven by Fuller Ferrell, aged 58, of 2620 Jacobs Road, Youngstown, O., when the trucks locked wheels and careened down the road, finally overturning. Ferrell suffered lacerations of the head, while Dennison escaped virtually unhurt. Ferrell is in the Jameson Memorial hospital.
